

Faculty of Social and Political Sciences

Address: Free School Lane
Cambridge
CB2 3RQ

Telephone: 01223 334520

Fax: 01223 334550

E-mail:

General Enquiries: sps-enquiries@lists.cam.ac.uk

Postgraduate Admissions: sps-graduates@lists.cam.ac.uk

www: www.sps.cam.ac.uk

Table of Contents

Report by the Chair and Deputy Chair of the Faculty of Social and Political Sciences ...	4
Academic and Academic-Related Staff.....	6
Support Staff	8
Staff in the Centre for Family Research.....	9
Student Numbers, 2003-2004	10
Report by the Director of Undergraduate Education	11
Social and Political Sciences Graduate Students, 2003-2004.....	13
The Social and Political Sciences Faculty Library	17
Faculty and Departmental Committees	18
Heads of Departments' Overviews.....	20
Politics	20
Social and Developmental Psychology.....	21
Sociology	22
Overview: the Centre for Family Research.....	23
Social Science Research Group	24
Cambridge Body Research Group	26
Cambridge Genetics Group	26
The Brazelton Centre	27
Infant Relationships Study Group	27
Cambridge Socio-legal Group	28
Cambridge Interdisciplinary Research Centre on Ageing	28
Cambridge Media Research Group	29
Staff Research Interests and Publications, 2003 - 2004.....	31

Department of Politics	31
Department of Social and Developmental Psychology	33
Department of Sociology	37
Centre for Family Research	45

Report by the Chair and Deputy Chair of the Faculty of Social and Political Sciences

From January 1st 2004, the Faculty of Social and Political Sciences implemented a new governance structure with three closely connected but separate departments. Alongside the existing Centre for Family Research there are now departments of Politics, Social and Developmental Psychology and Sociology. The move to a departmental structure allows full advantage to be taken of the highly successful growth and changes in the research and teaching that are taking place within the three disciplines. The Centre for Family Research remains, as before, an integral part of the Faculty, with a mission to promote study and research in family life and kinship.

One enormous undertaking in 2003-4 has been the highly successful move to new premises at the Old Press building, which now houses both Politics and the Centre for International Studies. The geographical proximity of the two groups has helped cement greater co-operation in teaching and research. In an innovative move to ensure maximum benefits to limited staff resources, two new University Lectureships were appointed in politics and international studies with responsibilities across the two institutions. Dr Glen Rangwala and Dr Amrita Narlikar have added to both institutions' expertise in international politics and international relations.

It has been a year that has seen considerable personnel changes in Social and Developmental Psychology, including a new Professor. Michael Lamb was elected as Professor of Psychology in the Social Sciences to succeed Tony Manstead who has joined Cardiff University. Professor Lamb joins us after many years leading a research group in the National Institute of Child Health in Washington. His appointment significantly strengthens the Faculty's growing international reputation in developmental psychology. His research has considerable synergies with the Centre for Family Research, including his pioneering research concerning fathers' influence on child wellbeing.

The Faculty has had a bumper year in terms of book production, including expounding on the philosophy of social science (Patrick Baert), analysing the BBC (Georgina Born), explaining environmental sociology (Peter Dickens), explaining why democracy trumps other forms of rule (John Dunn), focusing on the nature of money (Geoffrey Ingham), exploring ultra-orthodox Judaism (David Lehmann), discussing siblings, sex and violence (Juliet Mitchell), examining how democratic governments deal with international economy (Helen Thompson), spotlighting the changing structure of book publishing (John Thompson) and expounding the new medical sociology (Bryan Turner). In addition, the CFR has continued to publish its highly successful series of socio-legal books, the most recent being on sexualities.

The Faculty has also been successful in winning large and important research grants. There are several projects that are funded through the Cambridge-MIT initiative, including Christel Lane's work on globalisation and firms and David Good and Brendan Burchell's work on research innovation. Jackie Scott is seconded part-time for five years to direct a three million pound ESRC cross-institutional Network on gender inequalities in production and reproduction. Other research bids have won funding from the Research Councils, Leverhulme, the Nuffield Foundation, the Wellcome Trust and the Chartered Institute of Personnel Development, for a diverse range of exciting projects from apprenticeship training to the social ethics of biotechnology.

We extend congratulations to all those who have had successes in research activities and, in particular, we note with pleasure that Dr Georgina Born was promoted to a personal Readership.

The Faculty has continued to win acclaim for both its undergraduate and graduate teaching. It is very pleasing to note that sociology (with social and developmental psychology) was ranked first (out of 92 sociology departments across the country) in the Guardian's University Guide, while politics was ranked second in a list of 74 departments. Both the Sociology and Social and Developmental Psychology M Phil's have received recognition by the ESRC as accredited "1+3" research training programmes.

In 2003-04, the number of undergraduates studying Social and Political Sciences rose once again, reaching almost 400 (10% higher than a decade ago), continuing a marked growth trend over the decade. This is doubtless due to the continuing popularity of the disciplines offered by the Faculty, and its unique combination of those disciplines, as well as the Faculty's high reputation for both teaching and research. The high number of students presents problems in terms of an overly high student-staff ratio. Unfortunately, this made it impossible to offer an M Phil in politics in 2003-4, something which the Faculty hope to remedy, in the near future. The Faculty is extremely well served by its Officers. In particular, we would like to thank Dr Born as the Director of Undergraduate Education and Dr Burchell, Director of Graduate Education for all their work in ensuring that the Faculty's teaching programmes run smoothly. They have been supported in this task by exceptionally dedicated student representatives and we thank Nazanin Sadri, Dan Sternberg, Albina Shayevich, Martin Bruder, Alice Keen and Andrew McDowall for all their hard work in ensuring effective Faculty-student communication. The library and IT support for the Faculty has continued to develop and expand, and the Faculty now boasts a much more user friendly and comprehensive web site, as well as a much expanded library service.

It has been a year of considerable change for the administrative staff. Mary Griffin joined the Faculty as Administrative Officer, taking over from Kate Stacey, just as departmentalisation took effect. The fact that the change in governance has been so smooth is mainly due to the extraordinary efforts by all the Office and Support staff. We would also like to thank Celia Hewetson, the Secretary of the Council of School of Humanities and Social Sciences, for carrying out a thorough and insightful administrative review that laid the foundations for the new administrative structure, that is now serving us so well.

We would like to extend a warm welcome to our new Faculty and staff. In particular, we welcome Flora Cornish, Alex Gillespie, Harald Wydra, Rhiannon Morgan, Janet Morgan, Francisca Florenzano, Shireen Kanji and Jane Nolan. In addition, we welcome Visitors to the Faculty who have included Drs Alex Dumas, Nicole Kramer, Steven Loyal and Taizo Hayashi.

We would also like to extend our best wishes to those Faculty and staff who have left. This includes James Alexander (Bilkent University), David Halpern (Prime Minister's Strategy Unit), Alison Lenton (Edinburgh University), Tony Manstead (Cardiff University), Ann Vogel (Exeter University), Kate Stacey (MRC) and Sonia Londero (Gonville and Caius).

Finally, we are very sorry that Professor Bryan Turner has tendered his resignation to join the National University of Singapore. We thank him for his many contributions to the Faculty, including his service as Head of Department, and most recently, as Deputy Chair of Faculty Board (from July 2004 onwards).

Willy Brown (Faculty Chair)
Jackie Scott (Deputy Chair through to July 2004).

Academic and Academic-Related Staff

Professors

Professor John Dunn
Professor Geoffrey Hawthorn
Professor Antony Manstead (until December 2003)
Professor Juliet Mitchell
Professor Martin Richards
Professor John Thompson
Professor Bryan Turner
Professor Michael Lamb (from 1 September 2004)

Readers

Dr Georgina Born
Dr Christel Lane
Dr David Lehmann
Dr Jacqueline Scott

University Senior Lecturers

Dr Patrick Baert
Dr John Barber (seconded to King's College for 3 years from April 2003)
Dr Brendan Burchell
Dr Gerard Duveen
Dr Geoffrey Ingham
Dr Helen Thompson

University Lecturers

Dr David Good
Dr David Halpern (until 8 October 2003)
Dr Claire Hughes
Dr David Runciman
Dr Mary Sarotte
Dr Pieter van Houten
Dr Darin Weinberg

Senior Research Associates and Research Associates

Dr David Lane
Dr Kerry Platman
Dr Peggy Watson
Dr Phil Taylor

British Academy Post-doctoral Research Fellow

Dr Ruth Scurr

Marie Curie Post-doctoral Research Fellow

Dr Tania Zittoun

Senior College Fellow

Dr Robert Blackburn

Affiliated Lecturers

Dr Nick Baylis
Dr Tina Gutbrod
Dr David Halpern
Dr Véronique Mottier
Dr Fiorella Dell'Olio
Dr Sylvana Tomaselli
Dr Ann Vogel

College Lecturers

Dr Susan Benson
Dr Barbara Bodenhorn
Dr Colin Fraser
Dr Mirca Madianou
Dr Emile Perreau-Saussine
Dr Glen Rangwala

Temporary Lecturers

Dr Flora Cornish (from 1 September 2004)
Dr Oonagh Corrigan
Dr Alex Gillespie
Dr Shireen Kanji (from 1 October 2004)
Dr Alison Lenton
Dr Ann Vogel

Newton Trust NUTO Fellows

Dr Paul Lewis
Dr Deborah Thom

Visiting Researchers

Dr Alex Dumas
Dr Barbara Gorayska
Dr Taizo Hayashi
Dr Nicole Kramer
Dr Steven Loyal

Directors of Studies (not listed elsewhere)

Dr Andrew Barry (Trinity Hall)
Dr Jude Brown (Downing)
Dr Raj Chandavarkar (Trinity)

Dr Nikolai Ssorin Chaikov (Sidney Sussex)
Dr Peter Dickens (Fitzwilliam)
Professor James Mayall (Sidney Sussex)
Dr Nigel Kettley (Wolfson)
Dr Alison Liebling (Trinity Hall)
Ms Jessica Miller (Lucy Cavendish)
Dr Rob Moore (Homerton)
Dr Julie Smith (Robinson)

Librarian

Ms Julie Nicholas

General Board Administrative Officer

Ms Kate Stacey (until 24 October 2003)
Dr Mary Griffin (from 9 December 2003)

Computer Officer

Mrs Glynis Pilbeam

Support Staff

Secretarial and Clerical

Mrs Deborah Clark (Part-time Accounts Clerk)
Mrs Silvana Dean (Administrative Secretary)
Mrs Mary Fookes (Graduate Secretary)
Mrs Joy Labern (Secretary/Receptionist) (17 Mill Lane from March 2004)
Mrs Odette Rogers (Secretary/Receptionist)
Ms Norma Wolfe (Secretary/Receptionist)

Computing Staff

Mr Marcus Gawthorp (Senior Computing Technician)

Library Staff

Mrs Glenda Cawcutt
Mrs Nicola Celentano
Mrs Ivana Chilvers
Mrs Sonia Londero (until October 2003)
Ms Janet Morgan (from 2 December 2003)
Ms Jennifer Skinner

Staff in the Centre for Family Research

Director of Centre

Professor Martin Richards*

Deputy Director

Ms Helen Statham*

Senior Research Associates and Research Associates

Ms Shirlene Badger
Dr Elizabeth Chapman*
Dr Oonagh Corrigan*
Dr Marc de Rosnay*
Dr Claudia Downing*
Ms Rosie Ensor (née Davie)
Dr Gail Ewing*
Dr Tabitha Freeman*
Ms Leila Friese
Dr Joanna Hawthorne*
Dr Claire Hughes*
Dr Antonella Invernizzi*
Dr Julie Jessop*
Dr Lynne Jones*
Ms Rachel Marfleet*
Dr Shobita Parthasarathy*
Mrs Maggie Ponder*
Dr Ilina Singh*
Ms Claire Snowdon*
Dr Bryn Williams-Jones*
Dr Anji Wilson*

Associate Members

Dr Anna Bagnoli
Prof Juliet Mitchell*
Mrs Frances Murton
Dr Thelma Quince
Dr Deborah Thom*
Dr Jane Weaver
Ms Bridget Lindley*
Dr Andrew Bainham
Dr Shelley Day-Sclater
Dr Fatemeh Ebtehaj*
Dr Margaret Ely
Dr Judith Ennew*
Dr Nina Hallowell

* for details see Staff Members Research Interests and Publications.

Support Staff

Mrs Jill Brown (Administrative Secretary)
Mrs Sally Roberts (Data Manager/Librarian)
Mrs Anne Burling (Cleaner)

Student Numbers, 2003-2004

Undergraduate:	Part I	119
	Part IIA	142
	Part IIB	131
	Total	392

Graduate:	New PhDs	19
	Total PhDs	64
	M.Phil: Psychology	5
	M.Phil: Sociology	20
	Total	108

Report by the Director of Undergraduate Education

In 2003-04, the number of undergraduates studying Social and Political Sciences rose once again, reaching almost 400 (10% higher than a decade ago), continuing a marked growth trend over the decade. This can probably be put down to the continuing popularity of the disciplines offered by the Faculty, and its unique combination of those disciplines, as well as the Faculty's high reputation for both teaching and research. The student numbers were: 119 students in Part I, 142 in Part IIa, and 131 in Part IIb, making a total of 392 undergraduates reading SPS in total. Following the Part I, in which all students take four papers in Politics, Sociology, Social and Developmental Psychology and Social Anthropology, SPS offered four disciplinary or joint-disciplinary routes through Part II of the Tripos: Politics, Psychology, Sociology, and Sociology and Psychology. However an innovation this year was the introduction, following a survey carried out last year by Dr Brendan Burchell among the student body, of greater choice within the Sociology option at IIa, enabling those who want to combine Politics with Sociology the chance to do so. This means we now have a very satisfactory offering which enables both greater disciplinary specialisation at IIa for those students keen to pursue it, and the opportunity to combine two disciplines in depth if they so choose.

The Politics option once again attracted the most students, with the other subject options finding healthy student numbers. However the imbalance towards Politics was a little less marked than in recent years, a trend we are keen to encourage given staffing difficulties in Politics. The undergraduate examination results were of a high standard. In Part I, 17 firsts, 89 2:1s and 10 2:2s were awarded; in Part IIa, 18 firsts, 95 2:1s, 20 2:2s and 3 thirds; and in Part IIb, 48 firsts, 67 2:1s, 11 2:2s and 1 third. The prize for the best overall performance by a IIa student in Sociology and/or Psychology went to D. T. P. Butcher (Jesus), while the Schmidt prize for the best performance in Pol5, a conceptual essay paper, went to B. R. Jordan (Clare). Of those students who graduated in 2003, about one third went on to higher academic studies at postgraduate level, while about 42% entered permanent employment. Of the latter, about 16% went into the public sector, including education, social and community work and the civil service, 13% into consultancy and commercial employment, 5% into industry and 5% into the financial and legal professions.

In terms of policy, the academic year 2003-04 was marked by the introduction of the changes made to the Tripos teaching structure in the previous year mentioned earlier, offering students greater choice and the ability to combine subjects more flexibly in Part IIa. From the next academic year (2004-05), the changes also bring greater choice at IIb for all subject options, such as the opportunity for Politics students to take certain Sociology papers, and for Sociology and Psychology students to take certain Politics papers. While we continue to believe that these reforms will be the last at Part II for some time, during the year, following student requests, a Working Group was convened on the structure and content of Part I, which came up with recommendations that will be going through the Faculty committees in 2004-05.

Other developments this year included the introduction of a basic stint system for teaching staff to account for teaching workloads in each Department. So far, the stint system consists only of a retrospective record of the past year's workload, which – thanks to Camcors, the online supervision reporting system – can now include supervision loads. The aim should be, as in most other institutions, to build on this new transparency so as to manage proactively the teaching workload and to ensure reasonable equity. Staffing shortages in SPS make such a reckoning particularly important, as does the development of new initiatives such as additional Masters degrees, both of which require Departments to consider and plan how to manage the aggregate teaching load across the teaching staff. Given the growth in student numbers, SPS's staff-student ratio has worsened and is one of the worst in the University; this is particularly due to SPS's poor representation among college teaching officers. During the year, strenuous efforts were made to raise this key structural issue with the colleges and to encourage them to consider making joint CTO appointments. We wait to see whether the efforts yield any fruit.

This was my second and last year as Academic Secretary (a post renamed Director of Undergraduate Education), and I now hand the job over to Dr Patrick Baert. A large number of major teaching reforms, the Faculty's departmentalisation and a number of other major changes of staffing occurred during my time, and I am pleased to say that all of these changes – some of them momentous indeed – have occurred with minimal disruption to the learning experience of our students. I think it is no exaggeration to say that the Faculty is now a better organised, more harmonious and responsive organisation on the teaching front and in its relations with its students. Much effort has gone into better communication between the Faculty and students, the Faculty and colleges, and the Director of Undergraduate Education and Directors of Studies. Our use of the web has expanded, and we have far more documentation than before, and more comprehensible documentation. While I had a role in achieving these things, the lion's share of gratitude must go to the office and administrative staff, the Chair and Deputy Chair of the Faculty, the Administrative Officer and the Heads of Departments for their substantial efforts.

Georgina Born
Director of Undergraduate Education

Social and Political Sciences Graduate Students, 2003-2004

On 1st October 2003 there were 57 students registered for the PhD degree. The Graduate Education Committee then received 142 new applications, of which 34 were accepted and of those 34, 19 students began the course. Of the 19 students, 4 continued from the MPhil degree course (3 Modern Society, 1 Social Psychology). These students were from Australia, Canada, Cyprus, Germany, Japan, Mexico, New Zealand, Poland, Spain, UK, USA,

1 Association of Commonwealth Universities
10 Cambridge Commonwealth Trust
2 CET
1 DFID CB and Shell Centenary Scholarship
4 DRS
2 ESRC
1 Hutchison Whampoa Chevening CB Scholarship
1 ORS

Badger, Shirlene	A genetic diagnosis for obesity: social and moral experiences of the body and responsibility in childhood
Brosnan, Caragh	The impact of new reproductive technologies on how doctors constitute sex, gender and sexuality
Bruder, Martin	How do human perceptions of environmental risk, threat and opportunity translate into actions and beliefs
Diedrich, Guy	Trust and its impact on business relations
Duque, Adriana	Distributed work
Holland, Dominic	Structure, agency and culture: conceptualising the relationship between the material and the ideational in realism and institutionalism
de Hoog, Ariane	The impacts of human resource management on gender in the IT sector of the labour market
Hope, Simon	Virtue and social justice
Huppert, Daru	Child survivors and trauma
Lambert, Hannah	An exploration of culture and masculine identity within the British armed forces
Lau, Jeffrey	Sociology of money – theory of money and entrepreneurship
Lowman, Malgorzata	Breast cancer in Poland: towards an integrated approach
Messaritou, Evgenia	Religious fundamentalism
Murthy, Dhiraj	Globalization and South Asian popular culture – an investigation into its effects on ethnic identity formation amongst second generation diasporic South Asians in Singapore and Australia
Peers, Eleanor	Russian media
Rubio, Fernando D	The work of Richard Rorty from a sociological perspective
Schrag, Claudia	The concept of a European identity. Can it legitimate a state like the EU?
Shimada, Uta	A comparative study on the rhetoric of ‘new work’: is individualization of work of equal social desirability among individualistic and collectivistic cultures?
Tam, Chen Hee	Restratification in urban China: institutional change and persistence
Timmings, Andrew	Identify and analyse degree of trust among trade union activists in the European steel industry
Tohuzumi, Dai	Creating democratic political trust: what is democratic success in modern states?

Ph.D and MPhil Dissertations submitted 2003-2004

8 PhD dissertations were submitted to the Degree Committee.

I Rodriguez-Mora [1999] (G Duveen) Psychological interventions in emergencies: theoretical models and their ethical and political implications in the Venezuelan context
22.08.03

N Kettley [1999] (R Blackburn) Gender, stratification, and attainment in further education
26.06.03

V Gosal [1999] (G Duveen) Common-sense knowledge of social changes in Ukraine: social representations of freedom and responsibility in the public and private spheres
27.11.03

A Gillespie [2000] (G Duveen) Constructing the architecture of intersubjectivity
12.01.04

M Devenney [1999] (G Duveen) The social representations of disability: fears, fantasies, and facts
01.03.04

P Basham [1995] (S Mazey) Machiavellian Politics and Political Parties: A comparative model of American and British political marketing
06.04.04

E Chebankova [J2002] (J Barber) Implications of Putin's federal reforms on centre-regional relations
16.06.04

A Le Sage [1997] (J Whitman) Somalia and the war on terrorism, political Islamic movements and US counter-terrorism efforts
20.07.04

MPhil in Social and Developmental Psychology

In 2003-2004 there were 5 students on the course. These 5 students were selected from a total of 58 applicants. The nationalities of the students ranged from Austria, Singapore, South Africa, UK and USA.

All 5 students completed the course. The standard was again quite high with an overall average mark of 69%, and a range in average marks from 66.4 to 72.95%. There were 2 distinctions: Eva Krumhuber and Thea Loch.

Scott Fruhan (G Duveen):

The role of communicative contradiction in fantasy play

St John Haw (G Duveen):

Rhetorics of mobilisation: an analysis of government interventions promoting conflict in South Africa and Britain

Eva Krumhuber (A Manstead):

Facing smiles in synthetic humans: the effect of head-tilt, smile-dynamics and gender

Thea Loch (A Lenton):

An analysis of the relationship between perspective-taking and use of orders of reasoning in Stackelberg games

Janice Yap (A Lenton):

Feeling lucky? The interaction of affectivity and framing effects on risky choices

MPhil in Modern Society and Global Transformations

In 2003-04 there were 20 students on the course who were chosen from a total of 127 applications received by the Selection Committee. The nationalities of the students on the course range from Canada, Germany, Italy, India, Malaysia, Pakistan, PRC, UK, USA,

The highest overall average this year was 72. At the bottom end, the lowest average mark was 62. The mean this year was 66. One student withdrew from the course.

10 students applied to continue with the PhD, with 3 being admitted.

Dirk Beverungen:

Job attitudes of agency workers: The meaning of work in fractured working lives

Stefani Carpani:

The mechanism of formation of self-identity

James Douglas:

Party politics: an examination of the influence of Rave culture on the politicisation of British youth

Ruijin Guan:

Risk or deviance: an analysis of running away behaviour in the 1998/99 Youth Lifestyles Survey

Zeynep Gurtin:

Conceiving the embryo

Eric Jensen:

Envisaging the embryo in broadsheet and science advocacy press coverage of the human cloning debate

Daniel Keirs (B Turner) Withdrew from the course

Adeel Khan:

Revisiting the religion and modernity debate in context of British Islam

Charles Laurie:

An analysis of British foreign aid to Zimbabwe

Erin O'Hara:

Community space and the retail environment

Rena Patel:

Negotiating political and social spaces: sex workers organizing and demanding

Natalie Ridgard:

“Actually, life is a beautiful thing ...”. Understanding media and public health in south Africa within the context of HIV/Aids

Hannah Rippin:

The mobile phone in everyday life

Nabila Saddiq:

Negotiating meaning: Muslim audiences and the media

Isa Seow:

Multilingualism and the Internet: the beginning of a revolution for non-English speaking communities?

Sachin Shiviram:

Feminized poverty and women's political capital: seeking the roots of gender inequality in the US

Mitja Stefancic:

The significance of privatisation and foreign direct investments in the transformation of state socialism with special reference to Slovenia

Patrick Toomey:

Terror and aesthetics: symbolic struggle in the (de)legitimation of violence.

Sridhar Venkatapuram:

A comparison of reproductive health and HIV indications in two Indian states, or how can we begin to understand why HIV is spreading more in states where women's health is better?

Sulukshana De Mel:

Women's efforts in peace building in Sri Lanka: political space through motherhood

Lorraine Wong:

The Bathos of a multiculturalism in the Thatcherite era: a case-study of Hanif Kureishi's postcolonial hybridity

Graduate Publications

Abu-Rayya, H. M. (submitted). Acculturation and psychological adjustment: A preliminary examination of a Multidimensional Acculturation Model (MAM) with a sample of mixed-ethnic adolescents born to European mothers and Arab fathers in Israel. Personality and Social Psychology Bulletin.

Abu-Rayya, H. M. (submitted). Is it psychologically advantageous or disadvantageous to be mixed-ethnic? The case of adolescents born to European mothers and Arab fathers in Israel. Journal of Research on Adolescence.

Abu-Rayya, H.M. (submitted): The relationship between ethnic identity and psychological wellbeing among adolescents with European mothers and Arab fathers in Israel. Journal of Adolescent Research.

Abu-Rayya, H.M. (submitted). The relationship between ego identity and psychological well-being among mixed-ethnic adolescents born to European mothers and Arab fathers in Israel. British Journal of Developmental Psychology.

Abu-Rayya, H.M. (submitted). Distributing the psychological attributes of mixed-ethnic individuals across a differentiated acculturation spectrum defined by the interaction of their ethnic identity and personal identity. Cultural Diversity and Ethnic Minority Psychology.

Journal article:

Brian J. Kelly, Paul C. Burnett, Dan Pelusi, Shirlene J. Badger, Francis T. Varghese, and Marguerite M.

Robertson (2004) 'Association Between Clinician Factors and a Patient's Wish to Hasten Death: Terminally Ill Cancer Patients and Their Doctors', Psychosomatics 45:311-318

Kawachi I, Kim D, Coutts A, Subramanian S V (2004). 'Reconciling the three accounts of social capital', International Journal of Epidemiology 33: 682-690.

Book Chapter:

Badger, S. (2004) 'Your_health@DNAtailored.com', in R. Hindmarsh and G. Lawrence (eds) 'Recoding nature: Critical Perspectives on Genetic Engineering', Sydney, UNSW Press.

Coutts A and Kawachi I (forthcoming, 2004). 'The urban social environment and its impact on health'. In Freudenburg N, Vlahov D and Galea S. Urban Health: Cities and the health of the public. Vanderbilt University Press.

Reports:

Coutts A and Cave B (2004) 'Housing and health: a review', Health and Housing Network, London.

Cave B, Molyneux P, Coutts A (2004) 'The health implications of the draft growth strategy for Milton Keynes and the South Midlands area'. East of England Health Development Agency.

Duque, A. (2004) What matters most: quality or quantity of work? The Anahuac Journal. Mexico: Oxford University Press.

Hope S 'The Roots and Reach of Rangatiratanga', Political Science (June 2004).

Kirchhoff, C. Editor, report of the Space Shuttle Columbia Accident Investigation Board, Volume 1, 248p., Unites States Government Printing Office, 2003.

"The role of Money in Capitalism" by Jeffrey Y.F. Lau (University of Cambridge, England) and John Smithin (York University, Toronto, Canada. In: International Journal of Political Economy on "Heterodox Perspectives on Money and the State".

Frances Rosenbluth, Claudia Schrag, and Matthew Light (2004): "The Politics of Low Fertility: Global Markets, Women's Employment, and Birth Rates in Four Industrialized Economies" in: Women and Politics, vol. 26 (2). Based on paper that was awarded the "Sage Paper Award" for the best paper in comparative politics presented at the American Political Science Association's 2002 reunion (notification Spring 2004).

Awards: NASA Distinguished Service Award – Christopher Kirchhoff

The Social and Political Sciences Faculty Library

The challenge for the Library continued in 2003-04, not least in terms of maintaining and improving the book stock, but also in managing the increasing demand for resources.

During the year the Library undertook an evaluation of the condition of the collection, and the information was used to prioritize activities and to inform decisions on the replacement of older items in poor condition. The measures taken to preserve the physical condition and maintain the quality of the collection has been very successful; in particular there has been a significant reduction in deliberate damage. The Library must continue to safeguard and enhance the collection; however, the rate of normal wear and tear is rising as usage increases and it will remain a challenge to source funds in order to replace items in poor condition.

The quality and quantity of books in the collection improved with 1,760 new titles purchased. Even with many resources now becoming available electronically, the number and range of books stocked by the Library continues to be the most important factor for our users and the challenge of achieving balance between quality coverage (depth/range) and multiple copies of core text is ongoing. The number of active readers this year was 1,455 and the number of books issued was 52,488.

The Library has taken advantage of the capabilities of Voyager to improve day-to-day operations and the enormous amount of reports and statistics generated, has proved invaluable. A key task for next year is to further utilize Voyager to record all journal subscriptions and review the acquisition/cataloguing process. A major problem with Newton is that books cannot be renewed via the OPAC and upgrades to the system have not resolved the problem. Readers have been able to renew via email this year, resulting in the Library staff manually renewing 19,085 items. This has increased the workload of the library staff enormously.

During the summer the recommendations of a "Review on Lending Provision" were implemented and the Library's rules on loan periods and entitlements were revised. The follow-up "User Satisfaction Survey" showed positive results for increased availability of material and more choice as to how to use the total loan entitlement.

Due to the rising prices of library resources and the continued flat collections budget, the Library was once again required to cancel journals. The Library Committee, with recommendations by the Subject Convenors identified 9 journal titles totalling approximately £2,000. This is equal to approximately 20% of the 2002 periodical budget expenditure. Although this seems a large sum, it may only buy a year or two of relief. Funding will remain a major issue and the Library will need to continue to look closely at the shifting of journals to electronic-only.

There was a significant and steady increase in the number of students actually working in the Library at any given time and in particular during the evenings and Saturdays. This underlines the continuing importance of "the library as place" and the consequent need to provide a congenial environment for users. In response to student requests the Library increased the number of study places slightly, both seats at tables and informal, low seating. However, the Library will be hampered by a lack of study and shelving space over the next few years if the collection and student numbers continue to grow.

The Library website was further developed to include subject resource guides and the Library continued to pursue its strategy for providing resources in electronic form whenever feasible and appropriate. The Library staff now has the challenge of maintaining and promoting these resources.

The Library achievements this year have come about thanks to the hard work of the Library staff, providing a high quality and reader orientated service.

Julie Nicholas
Librarian

Faculty and Departmental Committees

Faculty Board

Chair: Professor Willy Brown
Secretary: Administrative Officer: Dr Mary Griffin

Degree Committee

Chair: Professor John Dunn
Academic Secretary: Professor Geoffrey Hawthorn
Graduate Secretary: Mrs Mary Fookes

Appointments Committee

Chair: Professor Dame Sandra Dawson
Secretary: Ms Kate Stacey (until 24 October 2003)
Dr Mary Griffin (from 9 December 2003)

Committee of Management for the Centre for Family Research

Chair: Professor Antony Manstead (until 31 December 2003)
Professor Ian Goodyer (from 1 January 2004)
Secretary: Ms Kate Stacey (until 24 October 2003)
Dr Mary Griffin (from 9 December 2003)

Faculty Ethics Committee

Chair: Professor Martin Richards
Secretary: Ms Kate Stacey (until 24 October 2003)
Dr Mary Griffin (from 9 December 2003)

Graduate Education Committee

Chair: Dr Brendan Burchell
Secretary: Mrs Mary Fookes

IT and Equipment & WWW Committee

Chair: Dr Claire Hughes (from 19 February 2004)
Secretary: Mrs Joy Labern

Library Committee

Chair: Dr Christel Lane
Secretary: Mrs Odette Rogers

Senior Academic Promotions Committee

Chair: Professor Willy Brown
Secretary: Ms Kate Stacey (until 24 December 2003)
Dr Mary Griffin (from 9 December 2003)

Research Committees

Sociology/Psychology/CFR Research Committee

Chair: Dr Jackie Scott
Secretary: Ms Kate Stacey (until 24 October 2003)
Dr Mary Griffin (from 9 December 2003)

Politics and Centre for International Studies Research Committee

Chair: Professor James Mayall
Secretary: Professor Geoffrey Hawthorn

Staff-Student Committee

Chair: Dr Georgina Born
Secretary: Mrs Silvana Dean

Faculty Policy Steering Committee (Strategy Committee)

Chair: Dr Jackie Scott
Secretary: Dr Mary Griffin

Teaching, Learning & Quality Committee (Undergraduate) (Teaching Committee)

Chair: Dr Georgina Born
Secretary: Mrs Silvana Dean

Politics

Head of Department's Overview

On 1 January 2004, the informal Politics Group in the Faculty became the Department of Politics. Geoffrey Hawthorn is the Head of Department, Joy Labern the Departmental Secretary. In April, the Department moved to new offices in the Old Press building at 17 Mill Lane. It shares a floor there with the Centre of International Studies, with whom it is coming to cooperate more closely. Two new University Lectureships, one in Politics, the other in International Studies, were created on the understanding that the holder of each would contribute to teaching in both institutions. Glen Rangwala, previously a College Teaching Officer in Politics at Newnham and Trinity Colleges and a Fellow of Newnham, was appointed to the Lectureship in Politics. He has accepted a Fellowship at Trinity. Dr Amrita Narlikar, previously at Oxford and Exeter, was appointed to the Lectureship in International Relations. She has accepted a Fellowship at Newnham. Each assumed their new post on 1 October 2004. Sylvana Tomaselli was elected to a Fellowship in Social and Political Sciences at St John's College. Dr Tomaselli and Fiorella Dell'Olio were made Affiliated Lecturers in the Faculty. Dr Rangwala works in international politics, and with a colleague has completed a book on the occupation of Iraq after the war in 2003. Dr Narlikar is interested in international economy, and engaged in research on the voice and influence of developing countries in the World Trade Organisation. Dr Tomaselli is a political theorist, writing on Rousseau. Dr Dell'Olio works on questions of migration in the European Union. James Alexander held a Temporary Lectureship in 2003–04 and taught political theory. Dr Alexander read History at Cambridge and wrote a PhD here on aspects of British socialist thought. At the end of the year, he moved to a Lectureship in Political Theory at the Bilkent University in Ankara.

Publications by members of the group are listed elsewhere. Professor Dunn has now finished his book on why 'democracy' has come, at least rhetorically, to trump all other forms of rule; Professor Hawthorn continued to write on Thucydides and is editing the late Bernard Williams' papers in political theory; Dr van Houten continued to work towards completing his book on party competition in western Europe; Dr Perreau-Saussine wrote papers on various questions in political philosophy, including arguments about war; Dr Runciman is writing about political representation; Dr Sarotte is starting her research on questions of American policy on Europe in the later 1970s and 1980s; Dr Scurr is completing her biography of Robespierre; Dr Thompson, having finished her book on the ways in which democratic governments have tried to sustain their authority against movements in the international economy, is now writing on sovereignty and (with Dr Runciman) on the question of how governments deal with debt; Dr Wydra's original and eagerly anticipated reassessment of the political 'transitions' in central and eastern Europe is soon to be published by the Cambridge University Press.

Several members of the group have again given lectures and talks at various institutions in the United Kingdom and abroad. Several have also in more public media continued in various ways to criticise the politics of the present government and comment on other matters; Dr Rangwala continues to advise a number of public bodies concerned with the United Kingdom's part in the reconstruction of Iraq; Dr Runciman has continued to publish a number of essays on politics in the London Review of Books; Dr Sarotte has been a commentator on CNN television; and Dr Perreau-Saussine advises the French Prime Minister.

The number of undergraduates taking Politics in Part II of the Tripos continued to rise. For reasons of resources, it continued to prove impossible to extend M.Phil teaching in Politics. Members of the group nevertheless contribute to the inter-Faculty M.Phil in Political Thought and Intellectual History and the M.Phils in Contemporary European, Chinese and Latin American Studies, and and to supervise Ph.D students in Social and Political Sciences and other institutions in the University.

Head of Department
Professor Geoffrey Hawthorn

Social and Developmental Psychology

Head of Department's Overview

This year has seen the establishment of the Department as part of the reorganisation of the Faculty, an important step for us, not least since it marks the first time since the establishment of SPS that the presence and contribution of the psychologists working in the Faculty has become so clearly visible. The year has also seen some significant changes to the personnel of the Department. We were sorry to lose Tony Manstead to a Chair at Cardiff. Although he had been in Cambridge for only two years Tony had made a notable impact, not only on psychology but on the Faculty as a whole. However, we were delighted that Michael Lamb was elected as Professor of Psychology in the Social Sciences to succeed Tony. Michael joins us after many years leading a research group in the NICHD in Washington, and the presence of a developmental psychologist with such a strong international reputation will enhance our work in this area. We were also sorry to lose Alison Lenton, who had been with us for two years as a temporary lecturer. During her time here Alison made important contributions to both our research and teaching, and it was no surprise to see such a talented young psychologist appointed to a permanent post at Edinburgh. This year also saw the arrival of Alex Gillespie, who has just completed a PhD in SPS, and Flora Cornish, who joined after completing a PhD at the LSE. We were also joined by Marc de Rosnay following his appointment as a Research Fellow at Churchill.

Notable events during the year included the recognition of the MPhil in Social and Developmental Psychology by the ESRC as the first year of their '1+3' scheme. The Department again hosted a one day Graduate Conference in collaboration with the LSE. This was the fifth such event, which as usual was organised by graduate students from the two institutions and drew contributions from graduates from a wide range of other universities. The principal speaker this year was Professor Ivana Marková. Other visitors during the year included Professor Uwe Flick from Berlin and professor Carol Gilligan from New York. Later in the year the Department also entered into its first collaboration with CRASSH to support a one-day workshop on Childhood and Conversation organised by Claire Hughes and Marc de Rosnay. The workshop is planned for the beginning of the new academic year, and should provide a stimulating beginning to the first full year of the new Department's life.

Gerard Duveen
Head of Department

Sociology

Head of Department's Overview

The Department of Sociology formally came into existence on 1 January 2004. The academic staff assigned to the Department included two Professors (John Thompson and Bryan Turner), four Readers (Georgina Born, Christel Lane, David Lehmann and Jackie Scott), three Senior Lecturers (Patrick Baert, Brendan Burchell and Geoff Ingham) and one University Lecturer (Darin Weinberg). A dozen other academics with temporary lectureships, College appointments or research positions in Cambridge were also affiliated to the Department.

Two new members of the Department joined us in 2004. Shireen Kanji took up a three-year appointment in sociology to cover some of Jackie Scott's teaching while Jackie is seconded to direct the ESRC Research Network on Gender Equality. An economist by training, Shireen has completed a PhD at the LSE on child poverty in lone mother households in Russia. Mirca Madianou took up a College Lectureship in SPS at Lucy Cavendish. Mirca's background is in media and communications studies. She completed a PhD at the LSE on migration, identity and the media and her book, Mediating the Nation, will be published in autumn 2004.

Sociology in Cambridge continued to win national acclaim for its undergraduate teaching programme. Last year we reported that in 2002-2003, Cambridge Sociology was ranked first (out of 79 sociology departments across the country) in The Times Good University Guide, it was ranked second (out of 86 departments) in the Guardian's University Ranking Lists. In 2003-2004, Sociology in Cambridge was ranked first in the Guardian and second in the Times. These rankings attest to the sustained excellence of our undergraduate teaching programme and the strength of our student intake; they also reflect the strong results we achieved in the 2001 Quality Assurance Assessment (SPS gained 23 points out of a maximum of 24 points) and in the 2001 Research Assessment Exercise (Sociology, in a joint submission with the psychologists in the Faculty, was awarded a 5).

The graduate community in Sociology remains large and vibrant. The MPhil in Modern Society and Global Transformations continued to attract a large number of applicants; 19 completed the MPhil in June 2004. More than 40 students were doing PhD research in Sociology. Altogether, 70% of the graduate students in the Faculty were working in Sociology.

All members of the Sociology Department have been very active in research. Jackie Scott stepped down as Deputy Chair of Faculty Board at the end of June in order to devote more of her time to research; she will be directing a major ESRC Research Network, involving a grant of £2.7 million, on gender inequalities in production and reproduction. Christel Lane continued with her research, funded by a grant from the Cambridge-MIT Institute, on the globalizing behaviour of UK firms in a comparative context. David Lane was awarded a grant from the Leverhulme Foundation to study the transformation of state socialism. Paul Lewis received a grant from the Chartered Institute of Personnel Development for a project on large employers and apprenticeship training. Georgina Born began a new research project, funded by the ESRC, on interdisciplinarity and society with colleagues from the Department of Social Anthropology in Cambridge and from Goldsmiths College in London.

In the course of the year, Patrick Baert finished a new book on the philosophy of social science; Georgina Born published a major book on the BBC; Peter Dickens published a new text on environmental sociology; Geoff Ingham published an important book on the nature of money; David Lehmann finished a new book on ultra-orthodox Judaism; John Thompson finished a major book on the changing structure of the book publishing industry; and Bryan Turner published a book on the new medical sociology. Full details of publications during the year are listed elsewhere in the Annual Report.

Georgina Born was promoted to a Readership in 2003-2004 and Christel Lane was elected as President Elect of the Society for the Advancement of Socio-Economics. Patrick Baert took up visiting posts at the University of Paris and the Humboldt University in Berlin.

John Thompson
Head of Department

Overview: the Centre for Family Research

Current Management Committee

Professor Peter Lipton (Chair from October 2004) (Dept of History & Philosophy of Science)

Professor Ian Goodyer (Chair to September 2004) (Dept of Psychiatry)

Dr Mary Griffin (Secretary) (from December 2003)

Dr Mavis Maclean (Centre for Family Law and Policy, University of Oxford)

Ms Maggie Ponder (co-opted June 2004)

Professor Martin Richards (Director)

Dr Jacqueline Scott (Department of Sociology)

Ms Helen Statham (Deputy Director)

Dr Darin Weinberg (Department of Sociology)

Another very busy year with a modest growth in numbers. We now have reached the maximum capacity for the space we have. Indeed, some would say we are already over capacity with a high level of multi-occupation in our offices and, for the first time, a limited amount of what in the commercial world is known as hot desking. We are very pleased that there are now active plans afoot for the Faculty to increase its available research space. While we have not started any major new research studies, several existing ones have expanded and it has been a vintage year for publication with increased numbers of books and papers published, in press and being submitted for publication. Our links with collaborative partners overseas have been strengthened by a number of visitors from these partners and, indeed, a quick geographical check shows that during the year we have had visitors from every continent except Antarctica. A full report of the year's work in the Centre can be found on our website [<http://www.sps.cam.ac.uk/CFR/index.html>].

Staff changes

Dr Marc de Rosnay who is a Research Fellow at Churchill College has joined us to pursue his research on the emotional development of young children.

The 'Toddlers Up' project has been growing almost as fast as the study children, and now includes a number of local and visiting researchers: Laila Freise (who has recently left the CFR), Keiko Fujisawa (from Tokyo); Dave Lambert (a former SPS student, now enrolled for a PhD) Jesse Leins (from Smith College, USA), Barbara March (from the University of Padua, Italy), Vanessa Murray (from Mexico), Yee-San Teoh (from Malaysia), Dr Anji Wilson and Dr Charlotte Wilson.

Dr Tabitha Freeman, who recently completed a Ph.D. at the University of Essex on a sociological analysis of fatherhood, has joined us to work on DNA paternity testing.

Shirlene Badger has a Wellcome Trust Ph.D. Studentship and is researching the effects of receiving a genetic diagnosis for a group of clinically obese children.

At the end of the year we said goodbye to Dr Julie Jessop who first came to the Centre as a Ph.D. student and subsequently remained to carry out a series of other studies. She is seeking new pastures in the Canadian west.

There were also changes in our Management Committee. Professor Peter Lipton is our new Chair replacing Professor Ian Goodyer. Both Ms Erica De'Ath and Professor Bryan Turner have left the Committee and are replaced by Dr Jackie Scott and Mrs Maggie Ponder. We are grateful to all the members old and new for their service to the Centre.

Visitors

It was a bumper year for visitors, as well as publications, and these included Professor Ann Robertson (University of Toronto), Dr Helena Willén (Nordic School of Public Health, Gothenburg), Dr Jan Pryor (McKenzie Centre for the Study of Families, Wellington, New Zealand), Ms Serena Lecce (University of Pavia), Professor Kerry Peterson (University of Melbourne).

The Future

The Director of the Centre has announced that he intends to retire in September 2005. Steps are underway to seek a replacement. It is hoped that the post will be advertised early in 2005 and we will have a new Director in place by the end of the academic year.

Social Science Research Group

Director: Jackie Scott*

Treasurer: Bob Blackburn*

Other Members:

Nick Baylis*

Max Bergman*

Brendan Burchell*

Ms Laura Corbett

Adam Coutts

Adriana Duque

Shireen Kanji

Nigel Kettley

David Lane*

Veronique Mottier*

Jane Nolan

Chen Hee Tam

Peggy Watson*

* for details see Staff Members Research Interests and Publications.

Other affiliated members:

Jenny Jarman (Canada)

Ken Prandy (Cardiff)

The Social Science Research Group (formerly the Sociological Research Group) was renamed to indicate that its scope, although mainly sociological, includes other social science disciplines, including psychology, education, demography and economics. The purpose of the group is to bring together members of the Faculty interested and engaged in theoretically significant social research, which is empirically grounded. The unifying theoretical theme of the SSRG's research is the provision of an integrated account of the social relations of inequality and the processes by which inequality is transmitted and reproduced. Please note that this section describes briefly the broad remit of SSRG activities. SSRG publications can be found in the entries of the individuals concerned.

The SSRG has two major offshoots. First the Individual and Labour Market Research Group (ILMrg) (directed by Dr Brendan Burchell) has continued to thrive and has had an active programme of meetings and social gatherings for both staff and graduate students. The group had fortnightly meetings, usually a discussion of a reading but also including a number of visiting speakers on topics ranging from 'The Role of Counselling Psychology in Employment Relations' (Lynda Burchell) to 'Public Policy Responses to Changing Work: Changing Families' by Brian Howe (Australian Labor deputy Prime Minister to 1997). The ILMrg also arranged visits to a public debate at the LSE, to the cinema and to a Cambridge brewery.

Individual members of the ILMrg had a productive year. The PhD members of the group engaged in international research visits as far afield as China, Japan, Latvia, the Netherlands, Canada, Texas and Boston. Their output included articles and book reviews in international journals, and papers at international conferences. Of particular note was Daiga Kamerade's Award for Young Scientist of the year in Social Sciences, by the Latvian Council of Sciences, (January 2004).

Also within the SRG, a new project commenced in February 2004 investigating distributed teams involved in research and innovation, and funded through the Cambridge-MIT Institute started. The principal investigator is Dr David Good, and Dr Brendan Burchell and a PhD student, Adriana Duque from SPS are also involved. The three other researchers actively involved in the project are based at MIT.

This year ILM affiliated staff and students have continued a busy programme of research activities. Dr Burchell (with Dr David Good) has begun a new project funded by CMI (Cambridge, MIT) concerned with communications and technological innovation. This involves a link between academia and British Telecom. The group have been involved in other CMI activities including a workshop in Boston concerned with the precarious employment practices surrounding the expanding call-centre sector. Chen Hee Tam has begun his fieldwork in China investigating the growing inequalities between managers and workers in state-owned enterprises in urban china. Jane Nolan has spent the past year in Beijing teaching academic English. Second, preparations for the new ESRC Research Priority Network on Gender Equality (GeNet) have been underway. Dr Jackie Scott is directing this Network, which has £3.2million funding for five years from October 2004. The Network spans eight British Universities (including Cambridge, LSE, Institute of Education, City, Open University, York, Essex and Oxford). Both the Judge Institute and the Department of Geography, Cambridge are also involved. The Network will be aiming to move forward our theoretical understanding and empirical knowledge of gender inequalities in production and reproduction and issues concerning paid work and domestic care. The academic aims translate into questions of crucial relevance including: How do men and women in the UK work and live together in the 21st Century? How do they compare as children and how do parents shape their upbringing? How do men and women share childcare, and what career paths do they choose, or have forced upon them? And how do the two genders compare in retirement? GeNet brings together some of the country's top social scientists to answer these and other questions that affect men and women and shape education, business, and public policies. This major gender studies project will be the most complete and comprehensive study of its kind. The Network is being hosted by the Centre for Research in the Arts Humanities and Social Sciences (CRASSH). Further details can be found on the GeNet web site (<http://www.GeNet.ac.uk/>).

The origins of the Sociological Research Group were closely bound up with the seminal work on stratification that led to the development of the "Cambridge Scale". Developments of the Cambridge Scale (CAMSIS) are still extremely active and the CAMSIS project (now based at Cardiff University) is an internationally comparative assessment of the structures of social interaction and stratification across a number of countries. Like virtually all other stratification measures, CAMSIS uses occupational groups as its basic units. Unlike other classification schemes, however, the scale can be used in ways that are gender-specific and appropriate for other groupings, such as ethnicity or for those not in paid employment.

Bob Blackburn, the founding director of the SRG has formally retired but in practice is continuing to be very research-active. Bob gave an invited talk in Stockholm to the E.C. Comite consultative europeen de l'information statistique dans les domaines economique et social on Segregation and Inequality. He also gave an invited presentation on Stratification and Gender to the International Sociological Association RC28 conference in Neuchatel. He continues to serve as the Associate Editor of The International Journal of Sociology and Social Policy. His work on occupations and gender in collaboration with Jennifer Jarman (Singapore) and Bradley Brooks (Statistics Canada) is ongoing. On the administrative front he has continued to serve on the Committee of Academicians of the Academy of the Social Sciences, and has now been appointed to the Council of the Academy. Within the SSRG he has continued to act as treasurer.

Nick Baylis gave a well-attended talk on positive psychology as part of Science Week (March 2004).

The SSRG's broad remit on inequality also includes work that is primarily focused on Russia and Eastern Europe. Dr David Lane (Reader Emeritus) has been highly research active. He was awarded a British Academy Network Award in support of a 'Network for Strategic Elites and European Enlargement (2004-2009)'. He is a member of the network of excellence under the European Union, Sixth Framework, on 'New Modes of Governance within the European Union'. He has also been awarded a research grant from the Leverhulme Foundation to student the Transformation of State Socialism (a co-operative project with Karkov National University).

Peggy Watson has been continuing her work on the Nowa Huta Study, an ongoing research programme located in Nowa Huta, Poland which focuses on (1) experiences of stress and the transformation of the social order in Poland, and (2) a historical account of occupational health and steel production under state socialism. The latter project is funded by a grant of approximately £200,000 from the Wellcome Trust (2002-2005). More information about the Nowa Huta Study and its historical background can be found at the website: <http://www.nowahuta-study.info>. The website has a list of publications which are related to the Nowa Huta Study, as well as the text of some of these articles, in both English and Polish. The website is also illustrated with archival photographs collected as part of the research.

As usual this year we wish some SSRG members good luck as they move on to new positions. Max Bergman has been appointed as Senior Lecturer (research methodology) Essex University. Nigel Kettley is now working at the Department of Education Cambridge. We welcome back Jane Nolan who has taken up a new position as Research Associate for the ESRC Gender Equality Network (GeNet). Also we welcome Shireen Kanji who is joining the Faculty from the LSE. Her research focus is on gender inequalities and her current project is on lone parents in Russia.

Jackie Scott (Director)

Cambridge Body Research Group

The Cambridge Body Research Group began in 1999 as an interdisciplinary group drawing heavily from recent interest in the sociology and anthropology of the body. After a brief period of inactivity the group is again organising a full programme of seminars during term time coordinated by Professor Bryan Turner, Dr Darin Weinberg and Shirlene Badger. During the past academic year seminar topics have included explorations of dance and the body, sleep, reproductive medicine and ageing and bodily appearance. An updated website has been launched and includes further information about the group and full details about its activities (<http://www.sps.cam.ac.uk/body/index.htm>).

Shirlene Badger

Cambridge Genetics Group

The Group has had a regular series of seminars through the 3 terms of the academic year organised by Drs Oonagh Corrigan and Bryn Williams-Jones. Seminar speakers have come from Cambridge and more widely and we have been able to take advantage of the presence of a number of overseas visitors in Cambridge to invite them to give seminars. Members of the Group are drawn from a wide variety of institutions in Cambridge including the Centre for Family Research, History and Philosophy of Science, Social Anthropology, Law, Public Health, Medical Genetics and Public Health Genetics.

For the next academic year the Group's activities will receive financial support from the Cambridge Genetic Knowledge Park.

The Group is open to anyone interested in social science and ELSI research related to genetics and genomics. Anyone wishing to be on our email mailing list should contact one of the organisers (Oonagh Corrigan, opc22@cam.ac.uk, Bryn Williams-Jones, bw244@cam.ac.uk, and Martin Richards, mpmr@cam.ac.uk).

Martin Richards

The Brazelton Centre

Work at the Brazelton Centre focuses on promoting healthy parent-infant relationships. Through conferences and workshops aimed at health professionals, information about infant behaviour and development and assessment, and parent-infant relationships are presented. The Centre was opened in 1997 and so far has trained 41 health professionals in the Neonatal Behavioural Assessment Scale (NBAS), and has 70 people in the process of training. The Centre is a charity with three trustees and 6 co-founders. The NBAS has been used in research and as a supportive intervention in 700 studies worldwide. The Johnson and Johnson Paediatric Institute funded a conference in London in 2004 with Dr. T. Berry Brazelton and Dr. Kevin Nugent as keynote speakers. Almost 400 people attended. A video called “More than Words can Say” about infant behaviour was also funded. Future plans include invited presentations to the Polish Neonatal Society, the Mother and Child Institute, Warsaw and the International Association of Infant Massage. For information: www.brazelton.co.uk
Tel. 01223-245791.

Infant Relationships Study Group

This group meets termly for seminars, discussion and presentations on parent-infant relationships and infant mental health issues. It aims to include academics, health professionals and volunteers who work with infants. Several members of this group are also involved in the founding of CAMPIP, the Cambridge Parent-Infant Project, an infant mental health service in Cambridge. Joint presentations are organised.

Joanna Hawthorne

Cambridge Socio-legal Group

The Sexuality Project

In April 2003 the Group held a residential seminar at Pembroke College Cambridge on the subject of Sexuality. This resulted in publication of the book, Sexuality Repositioned: Diversity and the Law in June 2004. The book was edited by Belinda Brooks-Gordon, Loraine Gelsthorpe, Martin Johnson and Andrew Bainham and again published by Hart. The launch at the House of Lords on June 17th was generously hosted by Lord Faulkner of Worcester and attended by Baroness Hale of Richmond and Mr. Justice Wood. The speakers were Martin Johnson, Loraine Gelsthorpe, Andrew Bainham and Belinda-Brooks-Gordon who also chaired the event.

The book takes a radical look at sexual diversity and how our sexualities are being refashioned and repositioned. It contains a diverse collection of inter-disciplinary contributions. These range over, inter alia, the recent reform of the law governing sexual offences, same-sex partnerships, treatment of sex offenders, sexuality in the work place, sexual abuse of children, prostitution, pornography, the sexuality of the young, biomedical and legal approaches to sexual orientation and inter-sexuality, sexual activism, historical and futuristic perspectives on sexuality. Those contributing chapters to the book were Loraine Gelsthorpe; Jeffrey Weeks; Ken Plummer; Lynne Segal; Linda McDowell; Craig Lind; Zoe-Jane Playdon; Martin Johnson; Pak-Lee Chau and Jonathan Herring; Julie Jessop; Roger Ingham; Andrew Bainham and Belinda Brooks-Gordon; Andrew Webber; Michael Freeman; David Pearl; Kerry Petersen; Joanna Phoenix; Belinda Brooks-Gordon, Charlotte Bilby and Tracey Kenworthy.

Bainham, A., Brooks-Gordon, B., Gelsthorpe, L. and Johnson, M. (eds), (2004), Sexuality Repositioned : Diversity and the Law, Oxford: Hart.

Cambridge Interdisciplinary Research Centre on Ageing

CIRCA's aim is to advance knowledge by bringing together investigators from the various disciplines involved in the study of ageing and encouraging true interdisciplinary research which crosses the boundaries of the natural, medical and social sciences.

The principle themes of the research are transition and transmission. The ageing process involves many key transitions. These include changes in employment, financial circumstances, family structure, geographic relocation, social relationships, health status, and the use of new technology. Transmission between the generations is an equally important theme. Many different kinds of things are transmitted - attitudes and values, money and property, lifestyle and DNA. We believe that these important issues are best studied not in isolation but in an integrated fashion.

This year, under the executive direction of Phil Taylor, CIRCA has had a very active year including the following.

Conference Activities

Following the event 'Active Ageing in the Eastern Region', which was organised by CIRCA in 2003, a Regional forum on 'Ageing Future East has been established.)

New Research

An international project on Workforce Ageing in the New Economy, funded by the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council of Canada and brings together research teams from Australia, Canada, Europe and the USA to research issues surrounding the life-course and employment in the IT sector.

A new project on SME and older workers is being funded by the European Social Fund. The project is aimed at developing best practice in employee age management for smaller businesses in Eastern Region. It is being managed by Philip Taylor of CIRCA, Trevor Carr of McKerr Carr associates and a project team consisting of Age Concern, Help the Aged, Job Centre Plus, East of England Development Agency and PRIME

A special section on the ageing workforce, edited by Dr Kerry Platman and Dr Phil Taylor, has been published in the International Journal of Social Policy and Society. The articles examine developments in public policies on age and employment and offer a critical appraisal of their genesis, scope and likely impact.

Other information on the active CIRCA seminar and event programme as well as on the research and publishing activities by CIRCA colleagues from other institutions within the University can be found on the circa web site: <http://www.circa.cam.ac.uk>

Membership

The publications of SPS members marked with asterisks can be found in the publications section.

Dr Philip Taylor* (Executive Director)
Dr F Huppert (Co-Director)
Dr Jackie Scott* (Co-Director)
Professor Carol Brayne (Dept. of Public Health)
Dr John Clarkson (Dept. of Engineering)
Dr Alex Dumas*
Dr Aubrey Grey (Dept. of Engineering)
Dr Simon Keates (Dept. of Engineering)
Professor Kay-Tee Khaw (Dept of Clinical Gerontology)
Mrs Fiona Matthews (MRC)
Dr Ross Mitchell (University of Third Age)
Dr Kerry Platman*
Professor Martin Richards*
Professor Bryan Turner*
Dr Suzanne Wait (Judge Institute of Management)
Araïne de Hoog (SPS, PhD student)
Mrs. Francisca Florenzano (Project Administrator, SPS)

Cambridge Media Research Group

In October 2003 Georgina Born and her PhD students Morgan Richards and Dhiraj Murthy set up the Cambridge Media Research Group, an initiative centred on a seminar series with outside and Cambridge speakers, as well as work-in-progress papers from postgraduate students. Although based in SPS, the Group and seminars are interdisciplinary and the latter drew an audience from several other faculties across the University (including International Studies, Social Anthropology, MML, English, Music and HPS). The initiative was designed in response to a perceived need for a forum within the University to bring together those researching subjects related broadly to media and urban popular culture. While seminar audiences varied in size from about 10 to 60, it seems to have met the need. Among the speakers in the 2003-04 series were Prof. Justin Lewis (Cardiff) on media coverage of the Iraq War, Prof. Paddy Scannell (Westminster) on the mediation of history, Prof. Sonia Livingstone (LSE) on children's relationship to the internet, Dr John Hutnyk (Goldsmiths') on post-colonial cinema, and Dr Arild Fetveit (Copenhagen) on reality television, as well as PhD students Jaeho Kang (SPS) on Walter Benjamin's media writings and Mary Martin (International Studies) on the European public sphere after 9/11. On the basis of the success of the first year, we plan an expanded programme for the coming year including two conferences. We are grateful for additional funding from Emmanuel College.

Georgina Born

Staff Research Interests and Publications, 2003 - 2004

Department of Politics

Dr James Alexander

Main concerns: the long trajectories of political thought, especially as they affected the fragmentation of ideas and ideologies in modernity.

Alexander, J. 2004. "Nietzsche's Aesthetic Politics", Journal of Nietzsche Studies.

Dr John Barber

Modern Russian politics; Leninist and Stalinist strategies for socialist revolution; Soviet state and society during World War II.

Dr Fiorella Dell'Olio

Citizenship and Democracy in the EU, Immigration politics and Human Security, EU jurisdiction in JHA, Attitudes towards the EU and Immigration, Identity politics.

Dell'Olio, F. 2004. "Immigration and immigrant policy in Italy and the UK: is housing policy a barrier to a common approach towards immigration in the EU?". Journal of Ethnic and Migration Studies, Vol. 30 (1), pp.107-128.

Professor John Dunn

Rethinking modern political theory; the historical formation and intellectual weakness of liberal and socialist conceptions of political value and political possibility; explaining the political trajectories of the varieties of modern states.

Dunn, J. 2003. "Measuring Locke's shadow". In Locke's Letter on Toleration and Two Treatises of Government, ed. Ian Shapiro. New Haven: Yale University Press, 257-83.

I gave the inaugural John Locke lecture at York University, Toronto in November and the Judith Shklar Memorial Lecture for the Department of Government at Harvard in March.

I was elected a member of the Council of the British Academy, to serve for 3 years as a representative of the Political Studies Section and Social Sciences Group in the Academy.

Research grants: An AHRB research leave term (9K), for which I was, alas, the only researcher. It ran from 1/1/04 to 31/3/04.

Professor Geoffrey Hawthorn

International politics and aspects of political theory.

Dr Emile Perreau Saussine

History of political thought; liberal democracy and its critiques; philosophy of war and international relations; Christianity and politics.

Dr Glen Rangwala

The politics of the Middle East; foreign policy analysis; international relations theory; political rhetoric; nationalisms.

Rangwala, G. 2004. "The democratic transition and the discovery of its limitations". In The Iraq War and Democratic Politics, eds. Alex Danchev and John MacMillan. Routledge.

Research: Dr Rangwala is the joint holder of a £36,000 grant from the Economic and Social Research Council to study the politics of post-conflict Iraq.

Dr David Runciman

Late-nineteenth and twentieth century political thought; theories of the state; various aspects of contemporary political philosophy.

Runciman, D and Ryan, M (eds). 2003. Maitland state, trust, corporation [edited text]. Cambridge: Cambridge University Press.

Runciman, D. 2003. "The concept of the state: the sovereignty of a faction". In States and citizens, eds. Q. Skinner and B. Strath. Cambridge: Cambridge University Press.

Dr Mary Sarotte

International Relations; 20th-century International History; history and politics of the Cold War, particularly of the United States, Soviet Union and Germany; security studies; transatlantic relations; role of NATO.

Monographs: Dealing with the Devil; East Germany, Detente, and Ostpolitik; German military reform and European security.

Sarotte, M., 2004. "Take No Risks: Chinese". In Ostpolitik Thirty Years Later, ed. Bernd Schaefer. Washington: German Historical Institute.

Various pieces and commentary, 2003–2004, published in or broadcast by: The Economist, BBC Radio 4, BBC World Service, CNN, and Sky News.

Grants: Alexander von Humboldt Foundation, Research grant for costs incurred during research trips to Germany, January 2004 and April 2004.

Selected Invited Lectures and Talks: "Transatlantic Relations and Threat Perceptions," Columbia University (September 2004).

"Transatlantic Relations in an Election Year," Invited as one of keynote speakers to German Marshall Fund Annual Conference on Transatlantic Relations, Dallas (March 2004).

"Working for the White House on 9/11," Intelligence Seminar, Professor Chris Andrew, Director, Corpus Christi College (January 2004)

"The Transatlantic Relationship, Current and Future Challenges," British-American Project Annual Conference, Cardiff (November 2003)

"Do We Welcome a Pax Americana?" British Petroleum/Cambridge Programme for Industry, Madingley House (Michaelmas Seminar 2003)

Dr Ruth Scurr

The French Revolution; history of social science; feminist political theory.

Dr Helen Thompson

The politics of the international economy; the authority and power of the modern state; the modern state and debt; raison d'état and the modern democratic nation-state.

Thompson, H. 2004. "The political problem of the euro-zone." In The Cambridge yearbook of European legal studies, vol. 5, 2002-3, ed. J. Bell, A. Dashwood, J. Spencer and A. Ward. Oxford: Hart Publishing, pp.71-76.

Ms Sylvana Tomaselli

Political theory and its history; philosophy; punishment, pardon, gratitude, patriotism and accounts of the nature of the self, sacred and profane love.

Tomaselli, S. 2004. "Dictionary of Eighteenth-century British Philosophers", eds. J. W. Yolton, John Valdimir Price and John Stephens. Bristol: Thoemmes Press, 1999; Reprinted in Dictionary of Irish Philosophers, ed. Thomas Duddy. Bristol: Thoemmes Press: Elizabeth Hamilton.

Fellow of the Royal Historical Society, 2001-

Academic referee for the Historical Journal, Cambridge, The Journal of the History of Ideas, New Brunswick, N.J., History of Political Theory, Exeter.

Dr Pieter van Houten

Comparative and European politics; regional and local politics; political parties; ethnic conflict; rational choice theory.

Van Houten, P. 2003. "Globalization and demands for regional autonomy in Europe", eds. Miles Kaher and David A. Lake. In Governance on a global economy: political authority in transition. Princeton: Princeton University Press, pp.110-135.

I conducted a brief research trip to Brussels in October 2003; went on a study trip to Berlin (with PhD students) in April 2004; presented papers at conferences in Glasgow, New York, Madison, Chicago and Bath and gave presentations in Bath, Galway and Uppsala.

Dr Harald Wydra

Cultural approaches to politics, politics of Russia and Eastern Europe, democratization processes and democratic theory, political anthropology, symbolic politics, theorization of uncertainty in politics.

Wydra, H. 2003. "Anti-Politik und Rückkehr nach Europa. Vorpolitisches Handeln und ostmitteleuropäische Identitätsbildung" in Jutta Allmendinger", Entstaatlichung und soziale Sicherheit. Verhandlungen des 31. Kongresses der Deutschen Gesellschaft für Soziologie in Leipzig 2002. 2 Bände und CD-Rom. Opladen: Leske + Budrich.

Wydra, H. 2003. Les guerres en ex-Yougoslavie' - vers une lecture événementielle d'un processus de décivilisation , in Norbert Elias et la théorie de la civilisation. Rennes: Presses Universitaires de Rennes, pp.75-95.

Wydra, H. 2004. "Naród polski między mitem a rzeczywistością. Trans-Atlantyck Gombrowicza i psychologia polityczna Polaków", in Marek Zybura, ed., Patagonczyk w Berlinie. Witold Gombrowicz w oczach krytyki niemieckiej. Cracow: TAWPN: Universitas, pp.451-75.

Articles in Refereed Journals: Rethinking Democratic Transformations – Lessons from the Communist Experience, The Review of Politics.

Between Past and Future – The Uses of Islands of History, Comparative Studies in History and Society.

Permanent Transition – Towards an Alternative Paradigm in Post-Communist Studies, East European Politics and Societies.

Department of Social and Developmental Psychology

Dr Nick Baylis

The Science of well-being, positive psychology and happiness; the communication of psychological science through popular media; the psychology of feature films; psychotherapy.

Affiliated lecturer in positive psychology, was co-convenor in November 2003 (with Dr Felicia Huppert and Professor Barry Keverne) of the three day Royal Society/Novartis conference on 'The Science of Well-Being'. As well as this conference producing a special issue of "Philosophical Transactions of The Royal Society", (already available).

Dr Max Bergman

Identity, acculturation and intergroup relations; cross-cultural psychology; links between attitudes, values and social representations; social exclusion and inequality, research methodology and data theory.

Dr Gerard Duveen

Social representations, especially from a developmental perspective and in particular the relations between representations, identities, influence and culture.

Duveen, G. with Zittoun, T., Gillespie, A., Ivinson, G. and Psaltis, C. (2003), "The Use of Symbolic Resources in Developmental Transitions". Culture and Psychology, 9, (4), 415-448.

In addition to giving an invited seminar at the University of Sussex, I have also participated in a series of discussions under the title of Dialoguing across Social Psychology, chaired by Professor Tony Manstead (Cambridge and now Cardiff) and Professor Wendy Hollway (Open University) and supported by the British Psychological Society.

Dr Colin Fraser

Social psychology of pay; values and attitudes; fairness and attitudes to work.

Dr Alex Gillespie

Cultural psychology, early American pragmatism, theoretical psychology, social representations and tourism in India.

Gillespie, A. (2003), "Surplus & supplementarity: moving between the dimensions of otherness", Culture & Psychology 9 (3), 209-220.

Zittoun, T., Duveen, G., Gillespie, A., Ivinson, G. and Psaltis, C. (2003), "The use of symbolic resources in developmental transitions", Culture & Psychology, 9 (4), 415-448.

Gillespie, A. (2004), "The Mystery of GH Mead's first book", Theory & Psychology 14 (3), 423-425.

Papers presented: 'The dialogics of doubt: Descartes and his daemon', Dialogical Self 3rd biennial conference, Warsaw, Poland, 28th August 2004.

'Symbolic adaptation to uncertainty: tourists buying souvenirs in Ladakh, north India', ISSBD 18th biennial conference, Gent Belgium, 15th July 2004.

'Comments on 'Filial Piety, Guanxi, Loyalty and Money: Trust in China' by Li Liu', Small group meeting on Trust and Culture. Maison des Sciences de l'Homme, Paris. 13th March, 2004.

'The representation of terrorism and the logic of space', Talk presented at the Department of Social Psychology, LSE, 11th March, 2004.

Appointed onto the editorial board of Culture & Psychology, an international peer-reviewed journal published by Sage.

Dr David Good

The psychology of conversation; the impact of information and communication technologies on social communication and personal relations; conversational breakdown.

Dr Barbara Gorayska

Barbara Gorayska has been working in the area of Cognitive Technology (the study of what happens to people, in particular their minds, when they augment themselves with technology), which she co-initiated in the early nineties. On the one hand, technologies people engage in, amplify cognition, on the other they change the way people cognize when the processes inherent in those technologies are accommodated at the interference of cognition, motivation, action and the outside world. Barbara's own research concerns the ways people perceive and utilize the concepts of 'relevance' as the all-pervasive construct operating within that interface. During her visitorship, Barbara also edited the first volume of the International Journal of Cognition and Technology (IJCT) and secured its incorporation within the well established Pragmatics and Cognition journal as an annual special issue. When the transfer was in place, she and Professor Jacob L. Mey re-edited and extended the first volume of IJCT into a book format.

Lindsay, R. and Gorayska, B. (2002), "Relevance, Goal Management and Cognitive Technology". International Journal of Cognition and Technology 1(2), 187-232, 2002. Reprinted in B.Gorayska and J.L. Mey, (eds.) Cognition and Technology: Co-existence, Convergence, Co-evolution. Amsterdam: J. Benjamins Publishing Company. 2004.

Gorayska, B. and Mey, J.L. (2002), "Pragmatics of Technology: An Introduction", International Journal of Cognition and Technology 1(1), 2002. Reprinted with modifications in B.Gorayska and J.L. Mey (eds.) Cognition and Technology: Co-existence, Convergence, Co-evolution. Amsterdam: J. Benjamins Publishing Company. 2004.

Dr Alison Lenton

Stereotype representations; judgements of sexual intent; gender roles; mate choice satisfaction.

Lenton, A. P., & Blair, I. V. (2004), "Gender Roles", in W.E. Craighead & C. B. Nemeroff (eds), Concise Corsini Encyclopedia of Psychology and Behavioral Science, New York: Wiley & Sons, pp.390-392.

Presentation:

Lenton, A.P. (2003), "Matters of life and death: Monetary value of life as revealed by judgments of wrongful death". Poster presented at the annual meeting of the Society for Judgment and Decision Making, Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada.

Symposiums:

Fasolo, B., Lenton, A.P., Todd, P.M. (2004), "Shopping for a mate: Is less more?" Symposium, Annual Meeting of the Human Behaviour and Evolution Society, Berlin, Germany.

Lenton, A.P., Fasolo, B. & Todd, P.M.(2004), "The (mate) value of 'FastDating.'", Symposium, Annual Meeting of the Human Behaviour and Evolution Society, Berlin, Germany.

Todd, P.M., Fasolo, B. & Lenton, A.P.(2004), "Testing patterns of mate preferences via actual choices", Symposium, Annual Meeting of the Human Behaviour and Evolution Society, Berlin, Germany.

Invited talks:

Lenton, A.P. (2004), "Social cues influence how lives are valued", Free University Amsterdam, The Netherlands.

Lenton, A.P.(2004), "The price of prejudice: Social cues influence how lives are valued", University of Kent at Canterbury, England.

Research Grants:

9/2003-8/2005, Economic and Social Research Council, Gender Role Boundary Theory: Structure of the Male and Female Representations.

8/2003-10/2004, The British Academy, Gender Role Boundary Theory: On the Structure of Male vs. Female Representations.

Both of these grants were awarded to support research on a project, in collaboration with Constantine Sedikides of the University of Southampton, wherein we investigate the differential structural features of the male and female stereotypes.

Professor Antony Manstead

Social and cognitive aspects of emotion; the impact of attitudes on behaviour; attitude change processes; the way in which identity is influenced by social and cultural contexts.

McKimmie, B. M., Terry, D. J., Hogg, M. A., Manstead, A. S. R., Spears, R., and Doosje, B. (2003), "I'm a hypocrite, but so is everyone else: Group support and the reduction of cognitive dissonance". Group Dynamics: Theory Research and Practice, 7, 214-224.

Fischer, A. H., Manstead, A. S. R., & Zaalberg, R. (2003), "Social influences on the emotion process", in W. Stroebe and M. Hewstone (eds.), European Review of Social Psychology (Vol. 14, pp. 171-201), Hove: Psychology Press.

Berndsen, M., van der Pligt, J., Doosje, B. J., Manstead, A. S. R. (2004), "Guilt and regret: The determining role of interpersonal and intrapersonal harm", Cognition and Emotion, 18, 55-70.

Doosje, B. J., Branscombe, N. R., Spears, R., & Manstead, A. S. R. (2004), "Consequences of national ingroup identification for responses to immoral historical events", in N. R. Branscombe and B.J. Doosje (eds.), Collective Guilt: International Perspectives (pp. 95-111. New York: Cambridge University Press.

Fischer, A. H., Manstead, A. S. R., Evers, C., Timmers, M., & Valk, G (2004), "Motives and norms underlying emotion regulation", in P. Philippot and R.S. Feldman (eds.), The Regulation of Emotion (pp. 187-210), Mahwah, NJ: Erlbaum.

Fischer, A. H., Rodriguez Mosquera, P. M., van Vianen, A. E. M., & Manstead, A. S. R. (2004), "Gender and culture differences in emotion", Emotion, 4, 87-94.

Fischer, A. H., Rotteveel, M., Evers, C., and Manstead, A. S. R. (2004), "Emotional assimilation: How we are influenced by others' emotions", Cahiers de Psychologie Cognitive, 22, 223-245.

Fischer, O., and Manstead, A. S. R. (2004), "Computer-mediated leadership: Deficits, hypercharisma, and the hidden power of social identity", German Journal for Human Resource Research, 18, 306-328.

Manstead, A. S. R., Frijda, N. H., and Fischer, A. H. (eds.) (2004), Feelings and Emotions: The Amsterdam Symposium. New York: Cambridge University Press.

Van Kleef, G. A., De Dreu, C. W., and Manstead, A. S. R. (2004), "The interpersonal effects of anger and happiness in negotiations", Journal of Personality and Social Psychology, 86, 57-76.

Zaalberg, R., Manstead, A. S. R., and Fischer, A. H. (2004), "Relations between emotions, display rules, social motives, and facial behaviour", Cognition and Emotion, 18, 182-207.

Professor Manstead presented invited papers at the following meetings:

"Experimentation in social psychology" (Dialoguing across Divisions seminar, Open University, September 2003);

"Using social psychological methods to study speeding" (Welsh Road Safety Forum, Welsh Assembly Government, February 2004; Road Safety Seminar, University of Wales, Lampeter, September 2004) and "Self-conscious appraisals and emotions: The case of intergroup guilt" (European Science Foundation Exploratory Workshop on

"New directions in the social psychology of intergroup emotions, University of Kent, September 2004).

He served as a member of the Editorial Board of the following journals: British Journal of Social Psychology, Cognition and Emotion, Emotion, European Review of Social Psychology, Journal of Applied Social Psychology, Journal of Personality and Social Psychology, Motivation and Emotion, and New Review of Social Psychology.

Professor Juliet Mitchell

Introducing a lateral paradigm – siblings and peers- into psychoanalytic theory and practice and considering this form a wider perspective within the Social Sciences. Gender differences from a psychoanalytic and social history perspective; changes in the contemporary western family with particular reference to issues concerning women and children.

Mitchell, J. (2003), Siblings: Sex and Violence, Cambridge: Polity Press, pp. 252.

Mitchell, J. (2003), "La reconnaissance du traumatisme et la place du langage", report of the Paris Psychoanalytic Society.

Mitchell, J. (2004), Gender, the Family and Mental Illness, Research Review supplement 15, 101-107.

Mitchell, J. (2004), Translation: Psychoanalysis and Feminism into Estonian, Ukrainian: Astrolabe Publishing House, pp. 479.

Mitchell, J. (2004), "What Is The Difference Between Gender And Sexual Difference?", in I. Matthis ed. Gender and Sexuality, London: Karnac Books.

Mitchell, J. (2004), "Review of P. Coles, The Importance of Sibling Relationships in Psychoanalysis", International Journal of Psychoanalysis, 85(2), 557-561.

Mitchell, J. (2004), "Natasha and Hélène in Tolstoy's War and Peace: gender conventions and creativity", selected from F. Moretti (ed), le Romano vol. III, for English edition, in press.

Mitchell, J. (2004), "Procreative mothers (sexual difference) and child-free sisters (gender): feminism and fertility", European Journal of Women's Studies, 11(4).

Young, L. and Mitchell, J. (2004), "The study of the experiences of child evacuation during World War Two with special reference to sibling relationships", Critical Psychology, in press.

'Procreative Mothers (sexual difference) and childfree sisters (gender): feminism and fertility.' The European Journal of Women's Studies. Vol.11.4. London. Sage. (in press)

With Lisa Young, 'Recalling Siblings: Evacuees of WWII.' Critical Psychology (forthcoming).

'Psychoanalysis and Serendipity', Bulletin of the Institute of Advanced Studies, Bologna (in press).

'Theory as an Object', talk to the Courthauld Institute together with an interview with Juliet Mitchell. (forthcoming).

Mary Evans interviews Juliet Mitchell. European Journal of Women's Studies (forthcoming)

Translation: "Mad Men and Medusas" into French (forthcoming)

Translations: "Mad Men and Medusas. Reclaiming Hysteria and the Effects of Sibling Relations on the Human Condition", into Estonian, Slovenian, Spanish and Italian. (forthcoming)

Public and Keynote Lectures: Institute of Filosofia, Naples; Panteion University, Athens; Bilgri University, Istanbul; Institute of Filosofia, Bologna; Courthauld Institute, London; European Philosophy, British Library, London; 2004 Annual London Consortium Lecture, Tate Britain; Yorkshire Psychotherapy Groups, Playhouse Theatre, Leeds; University of Seoul, S. Korea; Institute of Social Science, Amsterdam; Future of the Humanities Conference, Prato.

Radio: In Our Time. Melvyn Bragg.

of embodiment: injury, identity and the ballet body" Qualitative Research, 4(3): 311-337.

Dr Tania Zittoun

Life transitions; socio-cultural development; Youth; imagination; symbolic resources.

Zittoun, T., Perret-Clermont, A.-N., Pontecorvo, C., Resnick, L. & Burge, B. (2004), Joining Society: Social Interaction and Learning in Adolescence and Youth. Cambridge/New York: Cambridge University Press.

Papers and chapters:

Zittoun, T., Duveen, G., Gillespie, A., Ivinson, G. & Psaltis, C. (2003), "The uses of symbolic resources in transitions", Culture & Psychology, 9 (4), 415-448.

Zittoun, T. (2003), "The hidden work of symbolic resources in emotions", Culture & Psychology, 9, (3), 313-329.

Zittoun, T. (2003), "Jouer et l'expérience culturelle de l'adulte", Cahiers de Psychologie, Neuchâtel : Université, 39, 3-22.

Zittoun, T., Perret-Clermont, A.-N. & Pontecorvo, C. (2004), Overview, in A.-N. Perret-Clermont, C. Pontecorvo, L. Resnick, T. Zittoun & B. Burge (eds), Joining Society: Social Interaction and Learning in Adolescence and Youth. Cambridge/New York: Cambridge University Press, pp. 26-40.

Zittoun, T. (2004a), "Preapprenticeship as a transitional space", in A.-N. Perret-Clermont, C. Pontecorvo, L. Resnick, T. Zittoun & B. Burge (eds), Joining Society: Social Interaction and Learning in Adolescence and Youth Cambridge/New York: Cambridge University Press, pp. 153-176.

Zittoun, T. (2004), "Symbolic competencies for developmental transitions: The case of the choice of first names”, Culture & Psychology, 10, (2), pp. 1-171.

Zittoun, T. (2004b), Symbolic competencies for developmental transitions: The case of the choice of first names. Culture & Psychology, 10, (2), 131-161.

Zittoun, T. (2004c), Book Review. Sarejevo 2000. the Psychosocial conséquences of war. Papers on Social Representations, 13, 3.1-3.4 <http://www.psr.jku.at>

Invited papers and papers at conferences:

Zittoun, T. (2004), Movies, novels and religion as symbolic resources in youth transition. Invited paper for the Psychology Research Seminars, Faculty of Social and Political Sciences, University of Cambridge (February).

Zittoun, T. (2004), Ressources symboliques dans les transitions de la jeunesse. Invited paper for the Course of Psychology of Intersubjectivity, Dr Nathalie Muller Mirza, Institute of Psychology, University of Neuchâtel (May).

Zittoun, T. (2004), Introduction et synthèses théoriques sur les notions de développement au cours de la vie, transitions et usages de ressources symboliques, workshop: “Entre générations: Histoires de vie et ressources symboliques” with U. P. Trier & A.-N. Perret-Clermont. Institut de Psychologie, Université de Neuchâtel, (May).

Zittoun, T. (2004), Songs and movies and uncertain futures. Paper for the Symposium “Beyond uncertainties: symbolic processes and change” for the ISSBD, Ghent, (July).

Zittoun, T. (2004), Empathy, and the land of Nevermore. Invited paper for the Symposium “The Dialogical nature of affective processes: Empathy reconsidered”, J. Valsiner (org), with S. Chin Choi & K. Kim, G.Han & T. Jung, B. Zabinski & J. Valsiner, and Hubert Hermans (discussant). Dialogical conference, Warsaw, (August).

Zittoun, T. (2004), Transitions développementales et ressources symboliques. Invited paper for the Symposium “La psychologie sociale du développement : Culture. Cognition. Comportement”, T. Leonova (org.), with J. Retschnitzki & F. Strayer, 5^{ème} Conférence Internationale de Psychologie Sociale en Langue Francaise, Lausanne (September).

Scientific visits to Clark University (MA) to Prof. J. Valsiner (Sept. Dec. 2003) and to the Max Planck Institute for lifespan development (Berlin) (March-July 2004), thanks to a two years Swiss National Science Foundation fellowship.

Joined the Editorial Board of Culture & Psychology.

With Swiss Colleagues A. Clémence (Univ. of Lausanne), C. Kaiser, M. Nicolet & M. Novak, started a research on “New forms of authority and regulation of development and socialisation”, supported by the Swiss National Foundation, within the frame of the Swiss National Research program PNR 52 (No 405240-69058/1). Methodological expertise for a Theatre project based on interviews of three generations of Germans in Argentina under the military dictatorship, by Adeline Rosenstein (Berlin).

Department of Sociology

Dr Patrick Baert

Social theory; philosophy of social sciences; sociology of knowledge.

Baert, P. και Shipman, A. (2003), “Το πανεπιστήμιο σε πολιορκία; Εμπιστοσύνη και απόδοση λόγου στη σύγχρονη ακαδημαϊκή κοινότητα’ στο Ν. Ε. Παπαδάκης” (επιμ.). Κράτος, Κοινωνία, Αγορά και Πολιτικές στην Εκπαίδευση, (Αθήνα: Τμήμα Πολιτικής Επιστήμης Πανεπιστημίου Κρήτης και Εκδόσεις Σαββάλα), pp. 112-146 (in Greek).

Baert, P. (2003), “Time”, in Blackwell Dictionary to Social Thought, 2nd edition (ed. W. Outhwaite). Oxford: Blackwell, pp. 693-698.

Baert, P. and Turner, B.S. (2004), “New Pragmatism and Old Europe; Introduction to the Debate between Pragmatist Philosophy and European Social and Political Theory”, in European Journal of Social Theory volume 7, issue 3, pp.267-274.

Baert, P. (2004), “Pragmatism as a Philosophy of Social Science”, in European Journal of Social Theory volume 7, issue 3, pp. 355-370.

Visiting Fellow at University of Paris I (Pantheon Sorbonne) and University of Paris IV(Sorbonne). Visiting Professor at the Humboldt University in Berlin. Presented papers in Crete, Jyvaskyla, Murcia, Paris and Tours. Elected to the Executive Committee of the European Sociological Association. Co-organiser of conferences in Cambridge (‘Changing Societies, Changing Knowledge’) and Paris (‘What is Theory for? On the Relationship between Theory and Empirical Research?’).

Dr Susan Benson

Race, ethnicity and gender; African Diaspora and relations with continental Africa; Islam, society and political economy in twentieth century Nigeria; colonial history and socio-economic change.

Dr Robert Blackburn

Social inequality, including wealth and poverty, social stratification, gender and ethnicity; social processes reproducing inequalities; work, occupations and careers; theoretically appropriate research methods.

Chairperson of the Sociological Research Group.

Blackburn, R. (2004), “Segregation and Inequality”, EC, CEIES.

Academy for the Social Sciences, Member of Committee of Academicians.

Conference Presentations, by invitation: ‘Stratification and Gender’, International Sociological Association, RC28 Conference, Neuchatel. ‘Segregation and Inequality’, EC Comite consultative europeen de l’information statistique dans les domaines economique et social, Stockholm (Invited as ‘private expert’)

ESRC: Member of the Virtual College.

Associate Editor, International Journal of Sociology and Social Policy.

I am now appointed a member of the Council of the Academy of the Social Sciences. (The Council is the governing body of the Academy. I remain on the Committee of Academicians, which is one of the two subcommittees of the Council).

Dr Georgina Born

Sociology of culture and media: television, broadcasting and media policy; music; information technologies; cultural production and cultural institutions; intellectual property; media in the developing world; cultural theory; ethnographic method; social semiotics; modernism and postmodernism in art and music.

Born, G. (2004), “On modern music culture: shock, pop and synthesis”, in S. Frith (ed), Popular Music: Critical Concepts in Media and Cultural Studies (4 volumes), London: Routledge.

Born, G.(2004), Uncertain Vision: Birt, Dyke and the Reinvention of the BBC, London: Secker and Warburg, 554 pp.

Grants awarded: a) 'Interdisciplinarity and Society: A Comparative Critical Study': ESRC Science and Society Programme, £170,000. Co-principal with Dame Prof. Marilyn Strathern (Social Anthropology) and Dr Andrew Barry (Sociology, Goldsmiths, London). b) 'Digitalization and Democracy: Public Service Broadcasting in the Face of New Conditions': Norwegian Research Council. Collaborator with Prof. Jostein Gripsrud and Dr Karl Knapskog (University of Bergen).

Papers presented: Keynote plenary paper 'Envisioning Media Futures: Digital Television and Public Service Broadcasting in the UK', to conference on 'Media Convergence, Mediated Communication, and the Transformation of the Public Sphere', University of Copenhagen, Centre for Media and Democracy in the Network Society, Oct. 2003.

Panel paper on 'Music, Software and Intellectual Property', Centre for Research in the Arts, Social Sciences and Humanities, University of Cambridge: Social Property Seminar no. 3, July 2004.

Dr Brendan Burchell

Job insecurity; work intensification and stress in the workplace; gender, working conditions and health; interdisciplinary perspectives on the labour market; telework and communication over distributed working networks; restless leg syndrome.

Elliott, J, Long, S., Walker, B., Bridges, D. with Brierley, J., Brynin, M., Burchell, B., Connolly, S., Deas, M., Egerton, M., Hawkins, K., Healy, G., Hinchcliffe, G., Lys, A., Martin, R. and Tyson, S. (2004), “The dynamics of the graduate labour market in the East of England”. A report by the Graduate Labour Market Policy Research Forum, EEDA/University of East Anglia.

Keynote Conferences papers: “Conceptual and practical approaches to the quality difference between full-time and part-time employment”. Opening plenary address, Associazione Italiana degli Economisti del Lavoro XIX National Conference of Labour economics, Modena, September 2004.

National and International Committees:

Working Group of Experts: Council of Europe forum on social cohesion, 2004 - . Labour Market Flexibilisation and growing job insecurity.

Member, RLS:UK committee.

International conferences: 'Understanding Consumer Needs: A Psychological Perspective'. Discussion paper prepared for the Financial Services Authority, February, 2004.

Is teleworking a community friendly or socially isolation form of work? 2nd European Conference of Positive Psychology, July 2004, Verbania, Italy. (with D Kamerade).

Part-Time Employment: 'A Problem or a Panacea for Intergenerational Conflicts?' International Working Party on Labour Market Segmentation, Brisbane, July, 2004.

'The Quality of Part time work'. Melbourne, July, 2004.

Journal Editorships:

This was my last year as an editor of Work Employment and Society.

I continue on the editorial of the Cambridge Journal of Economics.

My research (with John Hopkins University) on RLS in blood donors has now been successfully completed.

The CMI project on distributed work (with David Good and Adriana Duque) started in February 2004.

Dr Peter Dickens

Society-nature relations; evolutionary thought and social theory; urban sociology.

Dickens, P. (2004), "Society and Nature. Changing Our Environment, Changing Ourselves", Polity Press.

Visiting Professor of Sociology, University of Essex.

I have conducted EC-sponsored research on protest movements against GM crops and government transport-plans.

Dr Alexandre Dumas

Sociology of the body; Sociology of ageing; Sociology of sport.

Laberge, S., Dumas, A., Rail, G., Dallaire, H., Voyer, P. (2003), "Les conceptions du 'bien-vieillir' d'aînées de milieux populaires et favorisés", Revue Québécoise de Psychologie, 24(3), 71-93.

Laforest, S., Dumas, A., (2003), "Recherche action portant sur les blessures survenant dans un parc de planche à roulettes de Montréal", Research report, Secrétariat au loisir et au sport du Québec.

Dumas, A. (2004), "Quand le passé n'est pas garant de l'avenir: aînées, pauvreté et activités physiques", Recherches féministes, 17(1) 77-109.

Boudreau, P., Dumas, A. (2004), "L'éducation physique et à la santé à l'heure de l'éducation multiculturelle", Avante, 10(1) 69-80.

Papers: Dumas, A., Laberge, S. "Preventive practice of older women of contrasting socioeconomic milieus: understanding physical activity later in the lifecourse", International Sociological Association, September 2004, Surrey, UK.

Laforest, S., Dumas, A. "Utilization of a mixed methodology to describe skateboarding practices in a skatepark and the resulting injuries", World Conference on Injury Prevention and Safety Promotion, July 2004, Vienna, Austria.

Dumas, A., Laberge, S. Older women's relation to bodily appearance: embodying social and biological living conditions. Cambridge Body Research group seminars June, 2004, Cambridge, UK.

Laforest, S., Dumas, A., "Le portrait des blessures subies dans un parc pour planche à roulettes de Montréal". Journées annuelles de santé publique, July 2003, Montreal, Canada.

Dr Geoffrey Ingham

Economics and sociology, especially the sociology of money; historical development of British capitalism; sociology of symbols of status inequality.

Ingham, G. (2003), "Schumpeter and Weber on the specificity of capitalism: solving Swedberg's 'puzzle'", Journal of Classical Sociology, 3, (3).

Ingham, G. (2004), "The development of capitalist credit money", in L. Randall Wray, (ed) Credit and State Theories of Money, Cheltenham: Elgar.

Ingham, G. (2004), The Nature of Money, Cambridge: Polity.

Ingham, G. (2004), "Money" in J. Runde and J. Davis, (eds) Economics and Philosophy, Cheltenham: Edward Elgar.

Over the week 29 March - 2 April 2004, I gave the Bernadin Haskell Memorial Lectures at the University of Missouri-Kansas City on 'Money in the social sciences: things, abstractions and social relations'; and addressed an international conference on 'The origins of capitalist credit-money'.

Dr Christel Lane

Multinational companies: domestic embeddedness, globalization strategy and organisational change; global sourcing in the textiles and clothing industries: UK, US, Germany, Japan.

Lane, C. (2004), "The Future of Professionalised Work in the UK and Germany", consolidated report on four professions published on the web site of Anglo-German Foundation: London.

Lane, C. (2004), with Wilkinson, F., Littek, W., Heisig, U., Browne, J., Burchell, B., Mankelow, R., Potton, M. and Tutschner, R., four separate reports on the individual professions in the above study published by Anglo-German Foundation/London as hard copies: "Solicitors and Advocates" pp. 36, "Pharmacists" pp. 33, "Human Resource Managers" pp. 34, "Counselling psychologists" pp. 35.

Littek, W., Heisig, U. and Lane, C.. (2004), "Die Organisation professionaler Arbeit in Deutschland. Ein Vergleich zu England", T. Kaletzki and V. Tacke eds., Organisation und Profession, Verlag fuer Sozialwissenschaften, Wiesbaden.

President Elect of the Society for the Advancement of Socio-Economics.

Invited to serve on an international panel to assist Genoma Espana in working out a strategic plan for the development of a biotechnology industry.

Member of editorial board, International Journal of Socio-Economics.

Member of editorial board, British Journal of Sociology.

I travelled to Japan, Hong Kong and China to conduct around 15 interviews in large companies in the Clothing and Pharmaceutical Industries.

I presented papers at Birkbeck College, University of London; London Metropolitan University and University of Birmingham.

Conference presentations:

The annual conference of the Society for the Advancement of Socio-Economics, in Washington, July 2004; Conference on 'Multinationals and the international diffusion of organizational forms and practices', at IESE Business School, Barcelona, July 2004. A workshop on Employment and Labour Relations in the New Economy, April 2004, Berlin.

Research Grants:

Principal investigator for project on 'The Globalizing Behaviour of UK Firms in a Comparative Context'.

Grant of £270,000 from Cambridge Massachusetts Institute (CMI) from February 2002 to March 2005

Supplementary grant of £90,000 from Doshisha Business School/Japan from February 2004 to June 2005.

Co-Investigator: Dr. Simon Learmount/Judge Institute and Research Officer: Dr. Jocelyn Probert

Dr David Lane

The outcomes of transition in Eastern Europe and the former USSR; evolution of the economic elite in Russia; Russian financial services and banking, its evolution, structure, ownership and control. Elites, classes and social groups in transformation.

Lane, D. (2003), "From Shock to Therapy: The Political Economy of Post Socialist Transformations", Economic Systems, Vol. 27, Issue 3.

Lane, D. (2003), "Class Explanations of the Transition from State Socialism", (Conference Proceedings), Kharkiv'skiy natsional'niy universitet imeni V.N. Karazina, Medodologiya, teoria i praktika sotsiologichnogo analizu suchasnogo suspil'stva, Kharkiv.

Lane, D., (2004), "The Economic Legacy: What Putin had to Deal with and the Way Forward", in Cameron Ross, Russian Politics under Putin, Manchester University Press, pp.95-113

Lane, D. (2004), "Global Capitalism and the Transformation of State Socialism", in Shinichiro Tabata and Akihiro Iwashita, Slavic Eurasia's Integration into the World Economy and Community, Slavic Research Center, Hokkaido University, Sapporo, pp. 27-60.

Lane, D. (2004), "Explaining the Transformation from State Socialism: Revolution, Class and Elites", in S. Eliaeson (ed), Building Civil Society and Democracy East of the Elbe, (Collection in honour of Edward Mokrzycki, Routledge, in press).

David Lane presented a paper on 'Class and Transition' to IX International Conference of Kharkov V.N. Karazin National University November 2003 which was subsequently published in Transactions of the Conference. He also addressed the American Association for the Advancement of Slavic Studies held in Toronto in November 2003 on the theme of 'Social Class as a Component in and Explanation of Transition'. He gave a paper at Birmingham University Business School, October 2003, on 'Global Capitalism and The Transformation of State Socialism' which he also gave at the 12th Research Seminar on Managing Economic Transition in Eastern Europe, 12th Research Seminar, in December 2003, at Bristol University. He was an invited participant as a discussant in the international symposium in memory of Abram Bergson at Harvard University November 2003. He also gave a paper on: 'Modernisation and the Changing Social Structure of State Socialism', to an international conference held at Birmingham University in October 2003. He gave a lecture on 'Varieties of Capitalism' and the Expansion of the European Union, Sabanci University, Istanbul in May 2004. He was the organiser of an international conference (in association with Monnet Centre of Excellence, Cambridge) on 'Varieties of Capitalism' and Societies in Transformation. To which he presented an introductory keynote lecture on the same topic. Cambridge, March 2004.

He was awarded a British Academy Network Award in support of a 'Network for Studies of Strategic Elites and European Enlargement' (2004 to 2009). He is a member of the network of excellence under the European Union, Sixth Framework, New Modes of Governance within the European Union. (European inter-universities consortium). He has also been awarded a research grant from the Leverhulme Foundation to study: The Transformation of State Socialism. This will be a cooperative project with Kharkov National University and with collaborators in Moscow and Kiev.

Dr David Lehmann

Religion and popular culture; Fundamentalist and charismatic movements in Latin America, Israel and worldwide.

Dr Paul Lewis

Philosophy of the social sciences (especially economics, sociology, politics); economic methodology; the Austrian school of economics; economic sociology; applied microeconomics (especially the economics of quasi-markets and performance-related pay).

Lewis, P. (2004), "Transforming Economics: Perspectives on the Critical Realist Project", (edited), London and New York: Routledge).

Lewis, P. (2004), "Transforming Economics: On Heterodox Economics and the Ontological Turn in Economic Methodology", in Lewis, P.A. (ed), "Transforming Economics: Perspectives on the Critical Realist Project", London and New York: Routledge, pp. 1-32.

Lewis, P. (2004), "Economics as Social Theory and the New Economic Sociology", in P.A. Lewis (ed), "Transforming Economics: Perspectives on the Critical Realist Project". London and New York: Routledge, pp. 167-86.

Lewis, P. (2004), "Structure and Agency in Economic Analysis: The Case of Austrian Economics and the Material Embeddedness of Socio-Economic Life", in J. Davis, A. Marciano and J. Runde (eds), The Elgar Companion to Economics and Philosophy, Cheltenham: Edward Elgar, pp. 402-25.

Grants:

2004-2005: Chartered Institute of Personnel Development. Awarded for the project, Large Employers and Apprenticeship Training in the UK (£30,000). (With P. Ryan and H. Gospel.)

2004-2006: Nuffield Social Sciences Small Grants Scheme (grant SGS/00977/G). Awarded for the project, The Economics of Service Quality in the UK Training Market (£5370). (With P. Ryan.)

Presentations: 'Economics as Social Theory and the New Economic Sociology.' International Network for Economic Methodology conference, University of Leeds.

'Subjectivism, Institutions and the Possibility of Socio-economic Order: The Case of Ludwig Lachmann.' Southern Economic Association, 72nd Annual Conference, San Antonio, USA; Cambridge Workshop on Realism and Economics.

'Transforming Economics? On Heterodox Economics and the Ontological Turn in Economic Methodology' ; Cambridge Workshop on Realism and Economics.

'Pay and Performance: The Contribution of Industrial Relations Research and Economic Sociology'. Joint University of Cambridge and University of Buckingham Transformation Studies Workshop, Judge Institute of Management, Cambridge University.

'Problems of Contracting for Quality in Public Services: The Case of Apprenticeship Training Programmes in the UK', presented at the 2004 Meeting of the Society for the Advancement of Socio-economics, Washington, D.C.

Dr Véronique Mottier

Social theory; the social and political regulation of gender and sexuality; HIV/Aids and eugenics; qualitative/interpretative research methods, especially discourse and narrative analysis.

Mottier, V. (2004), "Feminism and Gender Theory: The Return of the State", in J. Gauss and C. Kukathas (eds.), Handbook of Political Theory, New York: Sage, 277-288.

Mottier, V. (2004), "Symposium on Feminist Methodologies: 'Feminist Political Theory'", European Political Science (EPS) 3.2 (spring), 79-84.

Mottier, V. (2004), "L'Etat, l'analyse des politiques publiques et le genre", in Hardmeier, S. (ed.), Staat, Politik und Geschlecht. Genderforschung in der Politikwissenschaft, Special Issue of Universelle (6):103-118.

Mottier, V. (2004), "Pragmatism and Feminist Theory", European Journal of Social Theory, 7, 3: 323-335.

Hasdeu, I, Mottier, V., Parini, L., Roux, P., Spano, M. (eds.) (2004), "Special Issue: Postcommunisme: Genre et États en transition", Nouvelles Questions Féministes, 23, 2.

Hasdeu, I, Mottier, V., Parini, L., Roux, P., Spano, M. (2004), "Editorial", in I. Hasdeu, V. Mottier, L. Parini, P. Roux, M. Spano, (eds.), 'Special Issue: Postcommunisme: Genre et États en transition', Nouvelles Questions Féministes, 23, 2: 4-8.

Swiss National Science Foundation Research Professor; given keynote speech at General Assembly of Aids charity HDiverse, Cambridge (16 Oct. 2003); organised and chaired conference session on New Social Movements, ECPR General Conference, Marburg (18-21 Sept. 2003); chaired plenary session on Globalisation at Annual Conference of Swiss Sociological Association, Zurich (2-4 Oct. 2004); co-organised and co-chaired Gender & Methods week, Jesus College (27-31 Oct. 2003); round-table speaker on 'discourse analysis', CRIPT Graduate Workshop on International Political Theory, Sidney Sussex (18 Oct. 2003); chaired session at Methods conference of SNRF Research Program on Social Exclusion and Integration, Bienne (23 June 2004); taught at European University Institute, Florence; Essex Summer School in Social Science Data Analysis and Collection; Swiss Ph.D Summer School in Advanced Methods in the Social Sciences, University of Lugano; and University of Lausanne.

Dr Kerry Platman

Workforce ageing in the new economy; management and policy responses to age equality in employment; working practices in the information technology and media industries; flexibility and work-life balance over the life course; innovative interdisciplinary approaches to research on ageing and employment.

Platman, K. (2003), "The self-designing career in later life: a study of portfolio older workers in the UK", Ageing and Society, 23, 3, 281-302.

Platman, K. and Taylor, P. (2004), Guest Editors, "Age, Employment and Policy", introduction to themed section, Social Policy & Society, 3, 2, 143-144.

Platman, K. (2004), "Flexible employment in later life: public policy panaceas", for special section as above, Social Policy & Society, 3, 2, 181-188.

Platman, K. and Maltby, T. (2004), "Age Matters", Generations Review, 14, 1, 26-27.

Conference papers:

Platman, K. (2003), "Smoothing the cliff edge: Risk and uncertainty in flexible employment transitions for older workers." Paper to European Sociological Association 6th Annual Conference, University of Murcia, Spain, September 23-26.

Platman, K. and Barkholdt, C. (2004), "Flexible working, late life careers and the information technology sector." International Sociological Association, RC-11 Sociology of Ageing Inter-Congress Conference on 'Ageing Societies and Ageing Sociology: Diversity and Change in a Global World', Roehampton University, UK, September 7-9. Paper for symposium on 'Globalization, Workforce Ageing and Information Technology Employment'.

Platman, K. (2004), "Ageing Academics: Fount of All Wisdom or Past Their Sell-By Date: The legal and management dimensions." Paper for symposium at the British Society of Gerontology Annual Conference, Roehampton University, UK, September 9 – 11.

Platman, K. (2004), "Work-life balance and the ageing labour force: the need for a conceptual framework. Paper to international conference on Work-Life Balance across the Life Course, University of Edinburgh, June 30-July 2, organised by the Centre for Research on Families and Relationships.

Presentations:

Platman, K. (2003), "Age legislation: the business implications." Presentation to business managers, Break the Age Barriers Campaign, Age Concern South East/The Open University, Milton Keynes, December 2.

Platman, K. (2003), "Living longer, working harder: work-life balance and the ageing labour force." Presentation and workshop, European HR Forum on 'Corporate Age Diversity – issues, strategies and best practice', Deutsche Bank, Frankfurt, Germany, November 17-18.

Platman, K. (2004), "Workforce Ageing in the New Economy: the University Challenge", Universities Personnel

Association, University of London. Seminar, March 25.

Platman, K. (2004), "Working longer, working smarter. The ageing labour force, 'flexible' retirement transitions and the new employment reality," The Cathie Marsh Centre for Census and Survey Research, University of Manchester. Seminar, March 2.

Platman, K. (2004), "Age and employment: the social policy imperative." Lecture, Faculty of Continuing Education, Birkbeck, University of London, London, January 29. (MSc Life Course Development)

Dr Jacqueline Scott

Family and life-course in Europe and North America; social attitudes; generations and ageing; young people at risk; quantitative and qualitative social research methods; survey design.

Scott, J., Treas, J and Richards, M. (eds) (2004), Blackwell Companion to Sociology of Families, New York: Blackwell.

Scott, J., Treas, J. and Richards, M. (eds) (2004), Preface, Blackwell Companion to Sociology of Families, New York: Blackwell, xv-xxv.

Scott, J. (2004), "Children's Families", in Scott, J. et al (eds), Blackwell Companion to Sociology of Families, New York: Blackwell, pp. 109-125.

Scott, J., (2004), "Family influence and educational attainment", Comparative Family Studies, Special edition (invited), vol 35, no 4.

Dr Phil Taylor

Social gerontology; ageing and social policy; labour market inequality.

Taylor, P. (2003), "Age, labour market conditions and male suicide rates in selected countries", Ageing and Society, vol. 23, pp. 25-40.

Taylor, P. (2003), "Public policies towards older workers: the UK approach", The Four Pillars, 32, The Geneva Association, Geneva, pp. 4-7.

Taylor, P. (2003), "A New Deal for older workers: The employment situation for older workers in the United Kingdom", in T. Maltby, B. De Vroom, M-L Mirabelle and E. Overbye E. (eds), Ageing and Transition to Retirement. A Comparative analysis of European welfare states, Ashgate, Aldershot.

Taylor, P. (2003), "Introduction: Public Policy, ageing and work: an international symposium", Étude et Dossiers no. 270, The Geneva Association, Geneva, Switzerland, pp. 5-7.

Taylor, P. (2003), "From older workers to age diversity: policies on age and employment in the UK", Étude et Dossiers no. 271, The Geneva Association, Geneva, Switzerland, pp. 125-131.

Taylor, P. (2003), "Policy making towards older workers in the United Kingdom", in Buck, H. and Dworschak, B. (eds), Ageing and Work in Europe, Booklet series, Demography and Employment.

Taylor, P. (2003), "Older Workers, Employer Behaviour and Public Policy", The Geneva Papers on Risk and Insurance, vol. 28, no. 4, pp. 553-557.

Taylor, P. (2003), "Les politiques publiques européennes en direction des travailleurs âgés de 50 ans et plus", Les Actes, Les Troisièmes Entretiens de l'Emploi, 19 et 20 mars 2003, Cite des Sciences – Paris, L'Observatoire de l'ANPE, Agence Nationale Pour l'Emploi, Noisy-le-Grand.

Taylor, P. & Walker, A. (2003), "Age Discrimination in the Labour Market and Policy Responses: The Situation in the United Kingdom", The Geneva Papers on Risk and Insurance, vol. 28, no. 4, pp. 612-624.

Taylor, P. (2004), "Introduction: Public Policy, ageing and work: an international symposium", Étude et Dossiers, The Geneva Association, Geneva, Switzerland.

Taylor, P., Oka, M. and Rolland, L. (2004), "Ageing and work: developing a framework for public policy", Geriatrics and Gerontology International, 4.

Affiliations 2003: Professor of Ageing and Public Policy, Swinburne University of Technology. Member of the Executive Committee of the Regions for All Ages Programme, Age Concern England.

Presentations to conferences 2003: Ageing and employment: an international comparative perspective, Symposium on New Issues in Retirement, Ottawa.

Tackling age discrimination. How effective are legislative remedies? British Society of Gerontology Annual Conference, Newcastle.

2004: New Policies for older workers, NIVA age management course, Finland, March.

Speaker at the Centre Européen Des Entreprises A Participation Publique Et Des Entreprises D'intérêt Economique Général (CEEP) seminar on older workers, London, March.

Keynote address, Association of Career Professionals International annual conference, Venice, May.

Speaker at the seminar 'The Fight Against Discrimination in Europe', European Centre for Judges and Lawyers, European institute of Public Administration, Luxembourg, May.

Address to the Employment Committee of the European Union, Brussels, May.

Speaker at the Pfizer Healthy Ageing Advocacy Forum, Madrid, June.

Speaker at the seminar 'Age and Work: Connecting the Generations', European Foundation for the Improvement of Living and working Conditions, Dublin, June.

Keynote address at the National Employment Services Association annual conference, Adelaide, July.

Research grants 2002-2006: Workforce Aging in the New Economy: A comparative study of Information Technology Employment, Social Science and Humanities Research Council of Canada (£325,000).

A study of ageing and lifecourse issues in IT employment in Europe, North America and Australia.
Philip Taylor, PI, Kerry Platman, Ann Vogel, Francisca Florenzano
2003: Active ageing symposium, Cambridge, funded by Age Concern England, East of England Development Agency and the East of England Regional Assembly (£15,000).
A seminar organised by CIRCA which brought together those campaigning, researching and developing policy on age issues in Eastern region. 120 delegates attended the event.
2003-2004: Labour market policies for older workers, Anglo-German Foundation (£15,000)
A comparative study of developments in policies for older workers in Germany and the UK.
2004-2006: SMEs and older workers, European Social Fund (£156,000)
A project implementing case studies of best practice in the employment of older workers in enterprises in the Eastern region.

Dr Deborah Thom

History of feminism and women's work; history of child psychology and social welfare; current project is on corporal punishment in Britain, the Empire and Europe.

Thom, D. (2003), "Making War spectacular", in G. Braybon (ed), Evidence, History and the Great War, Berghahn Books.

Thom, D. (2004), "Politics and the people: Brian Simon and the campaign against intelligence testing", History of Education, Autumn.

Thom, D. (2004), Entries for Lady Hester Adrian, Lilian Barker, Mrs Cecil Chesterton, Barbara Drake, Dr Emanuel Miller in the new Dictionary of National Biography, Oxford.

Lectures and conferences: Thom, D. (2003), Plenary lecture 'Brian Simon and the campaign against intelligence testing'. Conference of the History of Education Society, Homerton College, Cambridge, December 2003.

Thom, D. (2004) "Of course the women do not actually ... dig the graves", women and war photographs', Social History Society conference, University of Rouen, France, January 2004.

Thom, D. (2004) "'Of course the women do not actually ... blow the glass', women and the work photograph', Annual conference on Work, Centre for Contemporary British History, Institute for Historical Research, London, July 2004.

Professor John Thompson

Contemporary social and political theory; sociology of the media and modern culture; the social organization of the media industries; the changing structure of the publishing industry; the social impact of new information and communication technologies; politics and the media.

In 2003-4 I completed a comparative study of the book publishing industry in Britain and the United States. The research was funded by a major award from the ESRC (October 1999-September 2003). In the course of 2003-4 I finished a book based on the research; the book will be published in early 2005 under the title Books in the Digital Age: The Transformation of Academic and Higher Education Publishing in Britain and the United States. This will be the first major study of the book publishing industry to appear in more than twenty years.

Professor Bryan Turner

Medical sociology (body and society); political sociology (citizenship and human rights); sociology of religion (Islam); sociological theory (classical).

Appointed to an Honorary Professorship at Deakin University, Australia; Research Associate with GEMAS (Groupe d'Étude des Méthodes de l'Analyse Sociologique), Paris.

ESRC grant, with Dr F Volpi (Bristol) on 'Securitising Islamic Terrorism: Policy Responses, Perceptions and Blowback'.

Turner, B.S. (2003), "McDonaldization. Linearity and liquidity in consumer cultures", American Behavioral Scientist 46(x): 137-153.

Turner, B.S. (2003), "Social capital, inequality and health: the Durkheimian revival", Social Theory & Health, 1(1): 4-20.

Turner, B.S. and Wainwright, S. (2003), "Narratives of embodiment: body, aging and career in Royal Ballet dancers", in H. Thomas and J. Ahmed (eds), Cultural Bodies. Ethnography and Theory, Oxford: Blackwell, pp. 98-120.

Turner, B. S. (2003), "Foreword" to L.M. Meskell and R.A. Joyce, Embodied Lives. Figuring Ancient Maya and Egyptian Experience, London: Routledge pp. xiii-xx.

Turner, B. S. (2004), "Religion, romantic love and the family", in J. Scott, J. Treas and M. Richards (eds), The

- Blackwell Companion to the Sociology of Families*, Oxford: Blackwell, pp. 289- 305.
- Turner, B.S. (2004), "Warrior charisma and the spiritualization of violence", Body & Society 9(4):93-108.
- Turner, B.S. (2004), "Foreword: the end(s) of scientific medicine?" in The Mainstreaming of Complementary and Alternative Medicine, London: Routledge, pp. xiii-xx.
- Turner, B. S. (2004), "Fundamentalism, Spiritual Markets and Modernity", Sociology, 38(1):195-202.
- Turner, B.S. (2004), "Weber and Elias on religion and violence: warrior charisma and the civilizing process", in S. Loyal and S. Quilley (eds), The Sociology of Norbert Elias, Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, pp. 245-264.
- Turner, B. S. (2004), "Edward W. Said: Overcoming Orientalism", Theory Culture & Society, 21(1):175-7.
- Turner, B. S. (2004), "Democracy in One Country? Reflections on Patriotism, Politics and Pragmatism", European Journal of Social Theory, 7(3): 275-289.
- Abercrombie, N., Hill, S. and Turner, B.S. (2004), The Penguin Dictionary of Sociology (Russian Translation), Moscow: Economika.
- Turner, B.S. (2004), "Globalization and the Future Study of Religion", in S. Jakelić and L. Pearson (eds), The Future of the Study of Religion, Boston: Leiden.
- Turner, B. S. (2004), The New Medical Sociology, New York : W.W. Norton.
- Turner, B.S. (2004), with Edmunds, J., "Generationen und soziale Schliessung Die britische Nachkriegsgeneration", in Mackert, J. (eds), Die Theorie sozialer Schliessung. Tradition, Analysen, Perspektiven, Wiesbaden: Verlag für Sozialwissenschaften, pp. 177-192.
- Turner, B.S. (2004), "Cittadinanza culturale, diritti umani e vulnerabilità: verso una teoria dell'etica del riconoscimento critico" in R. Finelli, F. Fistetti, F.R. Recchia Luciani and P. di Vittorio (eds), Globalizzazione e diritti Futuri, Rome, pp. 285-304.
- Turner, B.S. (2004), "Making and unmaking citizenship in neo-liberal times", in A.S. Ku and N. Pun (eds), Remaking Citizenship in Hong Kong. Community, nation and the global city, London: Routledge, pp. xiv-xxiii.
- Turner, B.S. and Wainwright, S.P. (2004), "Epiphanies of embodiment: injury, identity and the ballet body" Qualitative Research, 4(3): 311-337.

Dr Ann Vogel

Economic sociology, organisational and institutional analysis, philanthropy, redistribution, higher education management.

- Vogel, A. (2003), Trigilia, C. (2002), "Economic Sociology: State, Market and Society in Modern Capitalism", for Sociological Research Online, Blackwell Publishers: Oxford, vol. 8, no. 4.
- Vogel, A (2004), Schmidt, V.A. (2002), "Futures of European Capitalism", for International Sociology (SAGE), Oxford University Press, vol. 19, no. 1.

Dr Peggy Watson

Political sociology; sociology of health and illness; feminist theory; the study of postsocialism.

- Watson, P. (2004), "Transformacja Ladu Społecznego w Polsce a Problem Zdrowotności" (na przykładzie Nowej Huty), in A. Delorme (ed), Ekologia i Społeczeństwo, Kraków: Krakowska Szkoła Wyższa.
- Watson, P. (2004), "Gender and Politics in Postcommunism", in K. Daskalova and K. Slavova (eds), Women's Identities and Representations in Eastern Europe, Sofia: Polis.

Invited Lecture: Department of Social Medicine, University of Bristol, November 13, 2003. Title of talk: The Contest Over Health and the New Social Order in Nowa Huta.

Principal Investigator: Project Title: 'Risks, Rights, Responsibility: A Comparative Study of Occupational Health and Metal Manufacture in Poland 1949-1989'. Funded by the Wellcome Trust. February 2002-January 2005.
 Research Visits: Nowa Huta-Kraków, Poland September 2003,
 December 2003-February 2004, September 2004, <http://www.nowahuta-study.info>.

Dr Darin Weinberg

Medical Sociology; Urban Sociology; Social Theory; Sociology of Science; Qualitative Research Methods.

Centre for Family Research

Dr Elizabeth Chapman

Transplantation in cystic fibrosis; palliative care in cystic fibrosis; Pain in palliative care; HIV; Body Image.

Chapman, E & Bilton, D (2004), "Patients' Knowledge of Cystic Fibrosis: Genetic Determinism and Implications for Treatment", Journal of Genetic Counselling, 13 (5): 369-385.

Current Research Projects: Cystic fibrosis – palliative care, transplantation, family interactions, treatment adherence, Papworth NHS Trust. Working with the multidisciplinary pain group, Arthur Rank Hospice, Psychological input to the musculoskeletal pain service, Addenbrookes NHS Trust.

Conferences: The 27th European Cystic Fibrosis Conference, June 2004, 'The Continuum of Cystic Fibrosis: Home and Away'. The Seventh Annual North American Cystic Fibrosis Conference, October 2003, Anaheim, USA, 'Palliative Care in Cystic Fibrosis: A Model of Good Practice'.

I am Associate Editor: 'Body Image: An International Journal of Research', Elsevier Science.

Dr Oonagh Corrigan

Medical Sociology, Socio-bioethics, Social and Cultural Studies of Science: Human genetics, clinical trials, informed consent, the interface between laboratory and the clinic, stem cell research, DNA and human tissues sample collections for genetic research, scientific and lay understanding of risk.

Corrigan, O.P. (2003), "Empty ethics: the problem with informed consent", Sociology of Health and Illness, 25:7, 768-92.

Williams-Jones, B. and Corrigan, O.P. (2003), "Rhetoric and hype: where's the 'ethics' in pharmacogenomics?" American Journal of Pharmacogenomics, 3, 6, 375-383

Corrigan, O.P. (2003) "Ethical issues in patients' consent to pharmacogenomics trials", [Feature article] Cambridge Genetics Knowledge Park Newsletter Vol. 1. (http://www.cgkp.org.uk/resources/pdf/summer_2003-news.pdf)

Tutton, R. and Corrigan, O.P. (eds), (2004), Genetic Databases: Socio-Ethical Issues in the Collection and Use of DNA, London: Routledge.

Corrigan, O.P. (2004), "Informed consent: the contradictory ethical safeguards in pharmacogenetics", in R. Tutton and O.P. Corrigan (eds), Genetic Databases: Socio-Ethical Issues in the Collection and Use of DNA, London: Routledge.

Tutton, R. and Corrigan, O.P. (2004), "Public participation in genetic databases", in R. Tutton and O.P. Corrigan (eds), Genetic Databases: Socio-Ethical Issues in the Collection and Use of DNA, London: Routledge.

Presentations: Pharmacogenetic research: beyond the boundaries of consent', Bioethics Across Borders: Joint Meeting of the American Society for Bioethics and Humanities and the Canadian Bioethics Society Conference, Montréal, QC, Canada, Oct. 23-26, 2003.

'DNA banking: socio-ethical issues in pharmacogenetic databases', Genetic Databases: Socio-ethical Issues in the Collection and Use of DNA. Workshop launch, Cambridge Genetics Knowledge Park, Royal Society, London, June 8 2004.

'Obligations to consent, responsibilities to decide: passing the ethical buck?' Oxford, Imperial and Cambridge ELSI Workshop, Gonville and Caius, Cambridge, United Kingdom, Feb. 28, 2004.

'Drug development: clinical trials and PGx', Translating Pharmacogenetics Research into Practice: Ethical and Policy Issues' Wellcome Trust Conference, London, United Kingdom, Sept. 18, 2003.

I am collaborator of the ELSI Research and the Construction of "Legitimate" Expertise study with Dr Jose Lopez (Ottawa) and Professor Ann Robertson (University of Toronto).

I am an advisor at the Cambridge Genetics Knowledge Park.

Dr Marc de Rosnay

My area of research concerns children's emotional development, including their emotion understanding, their emotional competence and the relationship between these factors.

Pons, F., Lawson, J., Harris, P. L., and de Rosnay, M. (2003), "Individual differences in children's emotion understanding: Effects of age and language", Scandinavian Journal of Psychology, 44(4), 347-353.

Pons, F., Harris, P. L. and de Rosnay, M. (2004), "Emotion comprehension between 3 and 11 years: Developmental periods and hierarchical organization", European Journal of Developmental Psychology, 1(2), 127-152.

de Rosnay, M., Pons, F., Harris, P. L. and Morrell, J. M. B. (2004), "A lag between understanding false belief and emotion attribution in young children: Relationships with linguistic ability and mothers' mental-state language”, British Journal of Developmental Psychology, 22(2), 197-218.

Co-organiser with Dr Claire Hughes of a CRASSH Workshop, “Conversations and childhood”.

Dr Claudia Downing

Parenting in the space between health and illness: a comparative study of ethical dilemmas arising from the certain knowledge of a gene positive status for Huntington’s disease and Myotonic Muscular Dystrophy.

Conference and seminar presentations: Cambridge – Cardiff Genetics group, Conference Cardiff, March 2004 on Practical Ethics in Qualitative Family Research: Participants’ perspectives on taking part in qualitative research.

4S-EASST Conference Paris, August 2004: Concepts of time and accountability in families facing late-onset genetic disorders.

Dr Fatemeh Ebtehaj

Gender related issues; psychological development, especially issues related to exile and/or immigration; narrative and cultural psychology; discourse analysis.

Dr Judith Ennew

Children’s rights; child work in developing countries, especially South East Asia, indicators for children’s rights; participatory research.

Dr Gail Ewing

Provision of primary care services; health visiting; palliative care. Qualitative methodologies; grounded theory. Early motherhood and infant weaning.

Ewing, G., Todd, C., Rogers, M., Barclay, S., McCabe, J. and Martin, A. (2004), “Validation of a symptom measure suitable for use amongst palliative care patients in the community: CAMPAS-R”, Journal of Pain and Symptom Management, 27, 287-299

Ewing, G., Rogers, M., Barclay, S., McCabe, J., Martin, A. and Todd, C. (2004), “Recruiting patients into a primary care based study of palliative care: Why is it so difficult?” Palliative Medicine, 18, 452-459

Research projects: Symptoms and Needs Assessment in the Provision of Palliative Care in the Community. A comparison between patients, carers and their primary health care teams, with Grant Holders: CJ Todd, G Ewing, SIG Barclay, J McCabe (formerly Health Services Research Group, Institute of Public Health, Cambridge). Funded by the Dept of Health, Community Services Initiative, 1998-2004;

Presentations: Research Governance and Data Protection Legislation as Barriers to Recruitment.

Gail Ewing, Chris Todd, Margaret Rogers, Stephen Barclay, Anna Martin and Janet McCabe. Palliative Care Congress, University of Warwick, 17 March 2004

Dr Tabitha Freeman

Fatherhood and the paradoxes of patriarchy. Implications of DNA paternity testing.

Freeman, T. (2003), "Loving fathers or deadbeat dads? The crisis of fatherhood in popular culture", in S. Earle and G. Letherby (eds), Gender, Identity and Reproduction: Social Perspectives, Basingstoke: Palgrave Macmillan.

Other activities: I co-organised a two-day symposium, Gender History, Women's History, Family History, sponsored by the journal, Gender and History, at the Institute of Community Studies, London, in May 2004. Qualitative data analysis for Equal Opportunities projects at Cambridge University, including the Women's Forum.

Member of the BSA Human Reproduction Study Group.

Dr Joanna Hawthorne

Coordinator of the Brazelton Centre in Great Britain. Antenatal diagnosis and maternal anxiety; parent-infant relationships, especially in medical settings; infant development and early intervention; intervention with the Neonatal Behavioural Assessment Scale; parenting in neonatal units.

Hawthorne, J. (2003), “Understanding the language of babies”, in J. Raphael-Leff (ed), Parent-Infant Psychodynamics: Wild Things, Mirrors & Ghosts, Whurr: London.

Hawthorne, J. (2003), Getting to Know your Baby: Using the Brazelton Neonatal Behavioural Assessment Scale (NBAS). Leaflet for the NICU, Addenbrookes NHS Trust, Cambridge

Hawthorne, J., Alderson, P., Killen, M., Warren, I. (2003), "Who does this baby belong to? Foretelling Futures: Dilemmas in Neonatal Neurology". Poster at the World Association of Infant Mental Health 9th World Congress, Melbourne, Jan. 14-17, 2004.

Coordinator of the Brazelton Centre in Great Britain (registered charity number 1086814). Founder and organiser of the Infant Relationships Study Group.

Honorary contract at the Rosie Hospital, Addenbrookes NHS Trust, Cambridge: Providing intervention for parents of babies in the NICU using the NBAS.

Sustaining member of the Board of Directors, Chicago Lying-In Hospital, Chicago.

March 2002-July 2004: Foretelling Futures: Dilemmas in Neonatal Neurology. Wellcome Trust Grant (No. 066458) with Professor Priscilla Alderson, Margaret Killen, Inga Warren and Dr. John Wyatt, London. A social research project in four neonatal units interviewing parents and staff, about information sharing and uncertainty about the future development of the baby.

Dr Claire Hughes

Psychosocial aspects of the new genetics; the attitudes of couples carrying recessive disorders to various reproductive options (adoption, parental diagnosis, gamete donation, preimplantation diagnosis, informed consent and clinical trials).

Ensor, R., and Hughes, C. (2004), "More than talk: relations between theory of mind, emotion understanding and positive social behaviour in toddlers. To appear in the British Journal of Developmental Psychology.

Kuntsi, J., Eley, T. C., Taylor, A., Hughes, C., Asherson, P., Caspi, A. and Moffitt, T. E. (2004), "The co-occurrence of ADHD and low IQ has genetic origins", Neuropsychiatric Genetics, a section of the American Journal of Medical Genetics, 124B, 41-47.

Grant holder: For a study of the impact of children's exam stress on families: (funded by Hill and Knowlton, June-August 2004: £17,187). Predicting antisocial behaviour and peer problems with Professor Judy Dunn: (funded by The Health Foundation, October 2002-2005: £215,000)

I conducted a short study of the impact of exams on schoolchildren and their families.

Together with Dr Marc de Rosnay she is organising a Workshop on Conversations in Childhood (funded by CRASSH and the Department of Social and Developmental Psychology).

Editor for the journal Infant and Child Development and British Journal of Developmental Psychology and research interests include developmental psychopathology (including disruptive behaviour and autism) and individual differences in early social and cognitive development.

Dr Antonella Invernizzi

Children's Exploitation, Socialisation and Participation in Economy. A Comparative Analysis of Child Labour in Peru and Portugal. Grantholder. Funded by the Swiss National Science Foundation. October 2001-January 2004.

'Il lavoro minorile in Portogallo' in: Bambini e adolescenti che lavorano. Un panorama dall'Italia all'Europa. Ed. By M.T. Tagliaventi Questioni e Documenti. Quaderno N. 30, Centro nazionale di documentazione e analisi per l'infanzia e l'adolescenza/Istituto degli Innocenti, May 2004, pp. 145-159 (available on the website: www.minori.it)

Dr Julie Jessop

Sociology of the family; psychology of divorce; adolescents and bereavement; research ethics.

From October 2003 to September 2004 I worked as part of a three year Wellcome Trust funded bio-ethics project looking at issues surrounding human tissue collection in the UK. Principal investigator Dr. Bronwyn Parry.

Jessop, J.A. (2004), "The development of sexuality", in A. Bainham, B. Brooks-Gordon and L. Gelsthorpe (eds), Sexuality Repositioned: Diversity and the Law. Oxford: Hart Publishing.

I am co-ordinator for the Qualitative Women's Workshop on Family and Household

Dr Lynne Jones

Children and war; refugee mental health; the relationship between politics and mental health: questions of impunity, political neutrality, genocide, implications for humanitarian aid; impact of war on moral development; role of empathy.

Ms Bridget Lindley

Child protection and family rights; child care issues and legal framework; adoption.

Ms Rachel Marfleet

I worked with Dr Claire Hughes and Rosie Davie on a research project looking into the early origins of antisocial behaviour in 140 toddlers until March 2004.

Dr Shobita Parthasarathy

I am interested in the comparative and international politics of genetics and biotechnology, particularly medical biotechnology. Specific topics of interest include: globalization and biotechnology; how national political cultures influence the development of biomedicine; the role of patient advocacy groups in the conduct of biomedicine; the assignment and use of intellectual property in the area of biotechnology; and the role and influence of the biotechnology industry.

Parthasarathy, S. (2004), "Regulating risk: defining genetic privacy in the US and Britain?" Science, Technology, and Human Values, (Vol. 9, No. 3).
Research Fellowship, "Global Technologies for the Global Consumer: An Exploration of the Transnational Politics of the Genomic Age", Biomedical Ethics Programme, The Wellcome Trust, UK. (2003-2006).

Dr Kerry Petersen

Dr Kerry Petersen teaches medical law and torts at La Trobe University and the major focus her research has been on human reproduction law. While at the CFR conducted comparative research into the regulation of human reproduction.

Petersen, K., (2004), "The sexual zone between childhood and the age of majority: claims to sexual freedoms versus protectionist policies" in B.M. Brooks-Gordon, L.R. Gelsthorpe, M.H. Johnson and A. Bainham. Sexuality Repositioned: Diversity and the Law, Hart Publishing: Oxford, 351-372.

Mrs Maggie Ponder

Psychological and social aspects of having an inherited disorder; investigating service provision for people with inherited disorders; lay understanding of genetics.

Co-worker with Helen Statham on the study - Psychosocial effects of molecular genetic diagnosis: the case of X-linked learning disability.

I am Chairman of the Genetic Interest Group, a Member of the executive board of the Cambridge Genetic Knowledge Park and Cambridge Local Research Ethics Committee.

Dr Jan Pryor

Dr Jan Pryor visited the CFR from New Zealand. She is the Director of the newly formed Roy McKenzie's Centre for the Study of Families at Wellington. We send our best wishes to this sister centre in the southern hemisphere.

Professor Martin Richards

Psychosocial aspects of genetic and reproductive technologies. Children and family life.

Blackwell Companion to the Sociology of Families (2003) (editor with J. Scott and J.K. Treas). Blackwell. ISBN 0-631-22158-1.

Richards, M.P.M. (2003), "Assisted reproduction, genetic technologies and family life", in J. Scott, J. Treas and M. Richards (eds), Blackwell Companion to the Sociology of Families, Blackwell, pp 478-498. ISBN 0-631-22158-1.

Richards, M.P.M. (2003), "Attitudes to genetic research and uses of genetic information: support, concerns and genetic discrimination", in B.M. Knoppers (ed), Population and Genetics: Legal Socio-Ethical Perspectives, pp 567-578. Kluwer Legal International, ISBN 90-0413-878-9.

Wild, L.G. and Richards, M.P.M. (2003), "Exploring parent and child perceptions of interparental conflict", Int. J. Law, Policy and Family, 17, 366-384.

Olabarrieta, F., Martin, J.L., Arranz, E., Manzano, A., Azpiroz, A., Bellido, A., Oliva, A. and Richards, M.P.M. "Familiako giroaren kalitatea eta haurren garapen psikologikoa Euskal Autonomia Erkidegoan: azterketa deskriptiboa” [Family context and development in Basque children], Uztaro, 47, 81-95, 2003.

Richards, M.P.M. (2004), “Perfecting people: selective breeding at the Oneida Community 1869-1879 and the eugenic movement”, New Genetics and Society, 23, 49-71.

Richards, M.P.M.(2004), “DNA families”, Biological Sciences Review, 16, 8-11.

Richards, M.P.M. (2004), “A 19th century experiment in human selective breeding”, Nature Reviews: Genetics, 5, 475-479.

Halliday, J.L., Collins, V.R., Aitken, M.A., Richards, M.P.M. and Olsson, C.A. (2004), “Genetics in public health - evolution or revolution?” J. Epidemiol. & Community Health, 58, 894-899.

Research grants: Understanding inheritance and kinship connection (with Dr Anji Wilson). Funded by The Wellcome Trust. 2000 - 2004. Non-disclosure of genetic risk information (with Dr Angus Clarke, University of Cardiff and Lauren Kerzin-Storarr, N.W. Regional Genetics Service and other collaborators). 2000 - 2004. Psychosocial effects of molecular genetic diagnosis: the case of X-linked learning disability (with Nina Hallowell, Helen Statham and Lucy Raymond). Funded by The Wellcome Trust 2002-2006. Informed consent and genetic data (Onora O’Neill, Patrick Bateson, Peter Lipton and Martin Richards). Funded by The Wellcome Trust 2002-2005.

Research based outside Cambridge: I am involved in the following collaborative projects:-

Legal Services Commission. FAINS action research. Professor Jan Walker, University of Newcastle and others. The Basque Government and University of the Basque Country. Family interaction and psychological development of 5 year-old Basque children with Enrique Arranz. Euskal Herriko Unibertsitatea.

Swedish Council for Social Research. Conflict, negotiation and decision making post divorce with Helena Willén, Nordic School of Public Health, Gothenberg.

Canadian Institute of Health Research. Ethics of Health Research and Policy. Ph.D. and Post Doc Training Programme. Centre for Applied Ethics, University of British Columbia and Dept of Philosophy, Dalhousie University.

Genome Canada and Genome British Columbia. Genomics, Ethics, Environment, Economic, Law and Society (GE3LS) Dr. M. Burgess and others, Centre for Applied Ethics, University of British Columbia.

I am a Director of the (Cambridge) Centre for Medical Genetics and Policy and am on the Advisory Board for the Cambridge Genetic Knowledge Park.

I serve on The Wellcome Trust Biomedical Ethics Panel and Human Genetics Commission.

I am a member of the Human Fertilization and Embryology Authority’s Ethics and Law Committee and the HGC observer on the Authority.

Professor Ann Robertson

Canadian Institutes of Health Research (Institute of Genetics) Career Transition Award - to study policy issues at the intersection of human genetics, bioethics and public health, under the mentorship of Dr. Martin Richards.

Denny, K., Coburn, D., Mykhalovskiy, E., McDonough, P., Robertson, A. and Love, R. (2003), “Population health: a brief critique”, American Journal of Public Health, 93 (3), 392-396.

Grants held: 2000-03, Principal Investigator, “Towards a Phenomenology of Risk: The Case of Genetic Testing for Breast Cancer.” Funded by Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council (SSHRC) of Canada. $40,000.

2000-2005, Co-Investigator, “International and Comparative Perspectives on the Regulation of Genomic Research and Health Systems and Insurance” (Dr. Trudo Lemmons, PI). Project of Canadian Program on Genomics and Global Health (Dr. Peter Singer, Director) Funded by Genome Canada/Genome Ontario. $1,000,000.

2003-2005, Principal Investigator, “It’s all in our genes”: A Critical Analysis of Media Representations of Genetic Risk for Breast Cancer”. Funded by Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council (SSHRC) of Canada, $48,500.

Dr Silvana Santos

Silvana Santos is a post-doctoral visiting researcher from the University of São Paulo, Brazil. Her interests are both in education and genetics. She has studied everyday ideas of inherited disorders in Brazilian families.

Santos, S., Infante-Malachias, M.E., Amabis, J.M. (2004), “Estratégias meta cognitivas de aprendizagem en la planificación de una secuencia didáctica sobre digestión”, Journal of Science Education, 5 (1), 24-27.

Grant: Research fellowship of the FAPESP (Fundação de Amparo a Pesquisa do Estado de São Paulo).

Dr Carla Sharp

Childhood precursors to adolescent psychopathology (especially antisocial behaviour); Improving primary mental health care; Social-cognitive factors associated with psychopathology (especially conduct disorder);

Knowledge structures associated with social-cognitive processing; Gender differences in psychopathology; the development of self/personality and its relation to psychopathology and social cognition.

Dr Ilina Singh

Children and psychostimulant medication for ADHD. Implications of drug treatment for children's sense of self and personal agency. The social, ethical and legal implications of using pharmacogenomic technologies in drug treatments for depression. Dr Singh is now based at The London School of Economics.

Singh, I. (2003), "Boys will be boys: Fathers' perspectives on ADHD symptoms, diagnosis and drug treatment", Harvard Review of Psychiatry, 11 (6), 308-316.

Singh, I. (2004), "Doing their jobs: mothering with Ritalin in a culture of mother-blame", Social Science and Medicine, 59, 1193-1205.

Singh, I. (2004), Entry on ADHD, Sage Encyclopedia of Mental Illness

"Moral Dilemmas and Ritalin Riddles," Medical Sociology Conference, York, UK

"Mothers and Sons: Stimulant Drug Advertising 1960 – present," Wellcome Trust History of Psychology Seminar

"Social Anxiety – an up and coming psychiatric disease category?" ESRC Neuroscience Seminar

"Mothers and Sons: Stimulant Drug Advertising 1960 – present," Gender Studies Group, University of Cambridge

"Authenticity and Ritalin Dosing," Oxford University, Ethics Centre.

Ms Claire Snowdon

Attitudes and experiences of involvement with randomised controlled trials (research has involved collecting the views of trialists, professional collaborators, patient participants and parents as proxies for babies involved in neonatal critical care research).

Green, J.M., Kafetsios, K., Statham, H.E. and Snowdon, C.M. (2003), "Factor structure, validity and reliability of the Cambridge Worry Scale in a pregnant population", Journal of Health Psychology 8(6).

Investigation into factors and interventions associated with good and poor recruitment to multicentre trials. Funded by MRC and the NHS HTA Programme. March 2002 -July 2004.

Ms Helen Statham

Psychological and social implications of parental diagnosis of foetal abnormality; pregnancy, termination of pregnancy and perinatal bereavement; psychosocial aspects of genetics; learning disabilities.

Green, J.M., Kafetsios, K., Statham, H.E. and Snowdon, C.M. (2003), "Factor structure, validity and reliability of the Cambridge Worry Scale in a pregnant population", Journal of Health Psychology 8(6), 753-764.

Statham H. (2003), Decision-making about prenatal diagnosis. Presented to the Human Genetics Commission Working Group on Genetics and Reproductive Decision Making, September 2003 and published:

http://www.hgc.gov.uk/subgroups/reproduction_080903annexa.htm#hs

Statham, H and Ponder, M. (2004), Families, Learning Disabilities & Genetics – a new research study, the Fragile-X Society Research Supplement Issue no 31: 17- 19.

Statham, H., Green, J.M. and Solomou, W. (2004), Published abstracts for ISPOG congress, in Journal of Psychosomatic Obstetrics and Gynaecology 25 (Supplement 1)

'Feticide and late termination of pregnancy: perspectives of parents and health professionals', p.107.

'Emotional well being after a termination for abnormality: the impact of obstetric and social factors', p.123.

'When a baby is born with an abnormality: views of parents who did and did not have forewarning through prenatal diagnosis', p. 48.

'Caring for bereaved parents – reviewing the evidence for benefit and harm', p. 108.

Psychosocial effects of molecular genetic diagnosis: the case of X-linked learning disability, Genetics of Learning Disability (GOLD) Study – Grantholders are Martin Richards, Lucy Raymond and Nina Hallowell; Maggie Ponder is a co-worker on the study.

I am a member of the Advisory Body of the ESRC-funded Innovative Health Technology Project: Social implications of one-stop first trimester prenatal screening; and the Advisory Body of a new DoH initiative with DIPex (a web-based Directory of Patients' experiences co-ordinated from the Department of Primary Health Care, University of Oxford) on Ending a Pregnancy.

Invited lectures: Detection of fetal abnormality at different gestations: impact on parents and service implications Seminar, Department of Clinical Genetics, Addenbrookes Hospital, November 28th 2003.

'We had a choice - and it was up to us to make that choice: how parents make decisions after prenatal diagnosis.' Invited Speaker, Manchester, joint Life/Nowgen Disability and Reproductive choice workshop June 10th 2004.

Testing Times Invited contributor to public debate, Progress Trust, Cardiff June 16th 2004.

After prenatal diagnosis: the psychological consequences Invited speaker and workshop coordinator, Combined meeting of the All London Screening Committee and the Multiple Births Foundation, July 20th 2004.

Dr Helena Willén

Dr Helen Willén from the Nordic School of Public Health visited several times during the year in connection with the collaborative study of couple's decision-making related to divorce.

Dr Bryn Williams-Jones

Bioethic and business ethics in biotechnologies.

Williams-Jones, B. (2003), "Where There's a Web, There's a Way: Commercial Genetic Testing and the Internet" Community Genetics, 6(1), p. 46-57.

Williams-Jones, B., Corrigan, O.P. &. (2003), "Consent is Not Enough... Putting Incompetent Patients First in Clinical Trials" [Commentary] The Lancet, 361(9375), p. 2096-2097.

Williams-Jones, B. and Graham, J. (2003), "Actor-network theory: a tool to support ethical analysis of commercial genetic testing", New Genetics and Society, 22(3), p. 271-296.

Williams-Jones, B. and Corrigan, O.P. (2003), "Rhetoric and hype: where's the 'ethics' in pharmacogenomics?" American Journal of Pharmacogenomics, 3(6), p. 375-383.

Williams-Jones, B. and Burgess, M. (2004), "Social contract theory and just decision-making: lessons from genetic testing for the BRCA mutations", Kennedy Institute of Ethics Journal, 14(2), p. 115-142.

(<http://www.genethics.ca/personal/SCT.pdf>)

Williams-Jones, B. (2004), "Book review: who owns life?" Theoretical Medicine and Bioethics, Vol. 25(2), p. 165-169.

I have been involved with a number of different projects this year: Biotech Ethics: Corporate decisions as Key to Better Health Policy and ELSI Research and the Construction of "Legitimate" Expertise. Both Canadian funded projects.

Presentations: Charting the Genesis and Expansion of ELSI Programs in Canada and the United Kingdom, Bioethics Across Borders: Joint Meeting of the American Society for Bioethics and Humanities and the Canadian Bioethics Society Conference, Montréal, QC, Canada, Oct. 23-26, 2003.

Social Contract Theory and Just Decision-Making: Lessons from Genetic Testing for the BRCA Mutations (Invited) Oncogenetics: Achievements and Challenges, Montreal, QC, Canada, Oct. 7-8, 2004.

Expanding My Bioethical Toolbox: Innovatively Interdisciplinary or a Dangerous Liaison? in session 'Ethics Wars': Exploring the Socio-Ethics of Genetics Research, EASST/4S conference, Public Proofs - Science, Technology and Democracy, Paris, France, Aug. 25-28, 2004.

Is This My Child? Where Am I From?: Direct-to-Consumer Genetic Testing for Paternity and Genealogy Genomics and Society: First Lancaster-Cardiff CESAGen International Conference, The Royal Society, London, United Kingdom, Mar. 2-3, 2004.

In addition to conference presentations, I gave numerous guest lectures and seminars on various aspects of my research, at research centres around the UK.

I gave numerous guest lectures and seminars on various aspects of my research, at Research Centres around the UK.

Dr Anji Wilson

Understanding Inheritance: Kinship Connections and Genetics (with Martin Richards). Funded by The Wellcome Trust 2000-2003.

April 2004-June 2004: I have presented findings of our study on school support as part of the final dissemination of the Joseph Rowntree Foundation funded 'Family Change Series' at seminars in Manchester and London. I facilitated workshops at these meetings and attended final round table discussions about policy implications of the JRF research.

June 2004: renewed links with local mediation centre and drafted questionnaire for use in pilot evaluation of parental support services at the mediation centre.

