

Annual report for David Lane for the academic year 2009-2010.

David Lane

From last year, continued work in two main research areas: the coloured revolutions in post-Soviet space and the effects of the global economic crisis on the post-socialist states. He was awarded a British Academy research award to study the consequences of the coloured revolution in Ukraine in comparison with Russia, and in July 2009 he conducted focus groups in Moscow and Kiev. He continued teaching on the M.Phil in Russian Studies and participated in its core course.

He received a network award from the CEELBAS

With Stephen White he edited an edition of Communist Studies and Transition Politics on Rethinking the “Coloured Revolutions”, in which he contributed to the introduction and one paper (detailed below).

Now published in book form.

With Heinz Fassmann and Max Haller, he worked on a collection of papers and wrote part of the introduction to a book (Migration and Mobility in Europe - Trends, Patterns and Control) which will be published in the autumn of 2009. An earlier work, Leninism: A Sociological Interpretation, was republished by Cambridge University Press.

He spoke at a number of conferences and workshops on the effects of the economic crisis on the post-communist states, the study of elites, and coloured revolutions which are detailed below.

Research Grants Received

He received a network grant from CEELBAS (and small grants from Basees UACEES) in support of two workshops on xxx. These were held in Cambridge in November 2009 and May 2010.

Books and articles published in the academic year

‘Oranzhevaya revolyutsiya: “Narodnaya revolyutsiya” ili revolyutsionny perevorot?’ POLIS.(Politicheskie issledovaniya) (Moscow), No 2 (116) 2010. 31-53.

Editor, with Heinz Fassmann, Max Haller, ‘Migration and Mobility in Europe: Trends, Patterns and Control’, Cheltenham: Edward Elgar, 2009.

‘European and Central Asian Trajectories of Change from State Socialism’, in Rudiger Frank and Sabine Burghart, Driving Forces of Socialist Transformation: North Korea and the Experience of Europe and East Asia. Vienna: Praesens Verlag 2009. pp. 61-88.

Lectures and Papers Presented

He also took part the Summer School of the Taras Shevchenko University of Kiev, Comparison as Research Method in Sociology and Approaches to the Teaching of European Societies, Crimea, Ukraine, September 2009.

He gave two lectures at the XI International Academic Conference on Economic and Sopcial Development under the University Higher School of Economics, Moscow in April 2010.

He also lectured at the XXX University, Jinan, China on: XXX